WOULD HAVE AVERTED WAR

Clemenceau Talks on Triple Agreement Between France, England and U. S.

Says If in Existence in 1914, the Great World War Would Not Have Occurred

PARIS, July 17.—Premier Clemenceau today appeared before the committee of the chamber of deputies appointed to consider the peace treaty, and said that if British and American help in case of attack by Germany had been guaranteed in 1914, the war would have been averted, even with Germany strong and redoubtable. He expressed confidence that on the verge of a just war should one come, the United States and Great Britain would give their whole effort to securing the safety of France.

The security of France, he said, was guaranteed by the treaty of peace and the treaties between France and the United States and France and Great Britain. He reviewed the proceedings in the peace conference regarding the left bank of the Rhine, filling with the committee a series of documents on the subject. He recalled that, in the opinion of Marshal Foch the bridgeheads of the Rhine should be established and occupied permanently, and said that he had been obliged to choose between that protection which France alone would have been obliged to assure, and the protection afforded by the American and British treaties.

The committee discussed a report on German colonies. This report says that the return of Togoland and the Kamerun to France only resolves the prior right of France from a political viewpoint. It adds, however, that "a recent accord between France and Great Britain fixes the limitations and rights of each in these colonies."

OUTDOOR MOVIES AND COMMUNITY SING

One of the largest crowds ever assembled on the North common enjoyed the motion picture and community singing program presented there last evening under the auspices of the park commission. This was the first time that such a program has ever been carried out on this common, although the South common was the scene of many similar entertainments last summer.

Last evening's program was the same as that presented on the South common Wednesday evening and Albert Edmund Brown again led the community singing. The park commission plans to present movies and community singing on each of the commons once a week through the summer season. Next week the North common will have the entertainment Wednesday evening and the South common Thursday evening.

Patrick Teague, aged 34 years and residing at 106 School street, this city, was severely injured at about 11 o'clock this morning, when a sand-bank caved in on him near the plant of the Silesia mills in North Chelmsford. Mr. Teague, with other men, was employed on removing sand when the accident occurred. The ambulance was summoned and he was taken to St. John's hospital, where it was found that he was suffering from severe contusions of the back, arms and legs. It is also feared that he received internal injuries.

Car Service In and Around Boston Still Tied Up—Failure To Agree on Arbitrator

May Break Off Negotiations—Carmen Would Yield and Accept 60c an Hour

BOSTON, July 18.—With the electric lines of this city, street, elevated and subway, still stopped today by the strike of carmen, negotiations looking to a new arbitration medium developed no indications of an early agreement. The public trustees of the Boston Elevated Railway Co. and leaders of the employees' union conferred with Governor Coolidge but, although they agreed on the representative of each side they could not settle on the third member of the proposed new arbitration board.

May Break Off Negotiations
After two conferences were held without result, James H. Vahey, general counsel for the carmen's union, said the situation had not improved.

Open Advocacy of "The Red Terror" Contained in I. W. W. Magazines

Urged Attack With Ferocity of Tigers—Would Burn Codes of Law

NEW YORK, July 18.—Open advocacy of "the red terror," the destruction of the American government and the seizure of power by workers was contained in magazines printed in Russian and Finnish by the I. W. W. which were offered in testimony at today's session of the joint legislative committee which is investigating radical and seditious activities in this state. Some of the magazines were published in New York and others in Chicago.

Extracts read by translators included such sentences as:

"The bourgeoisie can be paralyzed only by the red terror."

"Burn the codes of law; take all the riches; death to the bourgeoisie."

"One of the most effective weapons is sabotage; let us attack with the ferocity of tigers."

Among a number of letters which were read into the testimony addressed to the I. W. W. headquarters was one from a woman teacher in a private school asking for literature suitable for boys of high school age. The letter was dated Sulin, Kas, and was signed Grace Ganarile. The writer recommended that nothing be sent "so venomous as to antagonize at the outset."

FIVE DOLLAR POLL TAX FOR FOUR YEARS

Contrary to a very general impression, the increase in poll taxes from $2 to $5 annually to be assessed by the state of Massachusetts to pay for the $100 gratuity being given to service men of the state, but only four, according to a copy of the legislative act received by City Clerk Stephen Flynn today.

MORE G.O.P. SENATORS CALL ON

WASHINGTON, July 18.—President Wilson's program for today included resumption of the conference with senators which he began yesterday and at which the peace treaty and the League of Nations were discussed. Four republican senators had appointments with him today—McNary of Oregon, Capper of Kansas, Kellogg of Minnesota and Kanyon of Iowa. The conversations were expected to follow the lines of those yesterday when the president conferred separately with Senators Colt, Nelson and McCumber. The conferences are the first of a series which the president is arranging with members of the opposition party in the senate whom he proposes to take into his confidence concerning the conduct of the peace negotiations at Versailles. So far he has called in only those senators who have expressed themselves in favor of the treaty or who have not made a public declaration either for or against, but later he is expected to confer with virtually every republican senator, including those who have most bitterly opposed ratification.

No prepared speeches were expected to be delivered in the senate today and it generally was believed that after a brief session it would adjourn until Monday. The foreign relations committee planned to continue its session by section reading of the treaty.

No word had come from the president as to his decision with regard to the recent request of the senate for what is known as the "American draft" of the League of Nations covenant. Secretary Tumulty said he had not discussed the matter with the president and senators who saw the president yesterday declared the subject had not been mentioned.

LAWYERS CLASH IN FORD SUIT

Much Time Lost by Objections of Counsel—Ford Again on Stand

Questioned Relative to Article Headed "Ford Is an Anarchist"

MOUNT CLEMENS, Mich., July 18.—A statement that one third of the record of the testimony of Henry Ford in the latter's libel suit against the Chicago Tribune had been taken up by the objections of counsel for Ford and the resultant arguments were made to Judge Tucker at the opening of court today. Alfred Lucking, counsel for Mr. Ford, remarked that the same could be said of Tribune counsel.

Defense System Adequate

Copies of the report of testimony of General Weaver on coast defense before the military affairs committee of congress in 1916, were introduced to refute the statement made in Ford's anti-preparedness advertisements quoting General Weaver as saying that the coast defense system was adequate.

AT THE NORMAL SCHOOL

Children of Worthen Street Baptist Church Vacation School Are Entertained

Sixty-five children and five workers, including the pastor, Rev. Walter Woodbury, of the vacation school connected with the Worthen Street Baptist church, were royally entertained this forenoon on the beautiful grounds of the State Normal school by girls of the Community Service club. Automobiles loaned by Mrs. Hutchins Parker, Dr. Lawler and Miss Louise Jenson were used to transport the children from the church to the grounds.

From 9:30 until 12 o'clock the children were led in all sides of games and outdoor frolics and a big ice cream cone went to each one. One or two of the club executives took charge of the informal picnic, assisted by the following club girls: Mary Deagan, Mrs. Walsh, Anna Egan and Natalie Carroll. These girls are enjoying a vacation from their work, but willingly offered to help as an act of service.

The vacation school being conducted by the Worthen Street church is unique in Lowell church activities. It is in session every day except Saturday and Sunday from 9 to 11:50 a. m. A kindergarten class is held and other classes where boys and girls are taught to make baskets, hammocks and knitting frames. There is no fee required, but each child may contribute one penny a day if he desires. Rev. Mr. Woodbury, with two or three other church workers, are in charge of the school and have given much of their time and energy in planning the work and taking care of the children.

Intervention Discussed by the Allied Supreme Council

Declared Only Means To End Situation Dangerous For Rumania and Poland

Count Karolyi, Former Head of Hungarian Republic, Coming to America

PARIS, July 18.—(Havas).—The principal topics of discussion before the allied supreme council yesterday, the Journal says, was allied intervention in Hungary, "where military action seems the only means to end a situation dangerous for Rumania and Poland."

PARIS, July 18.—(Havas).—The principal topics of discussion before the allied supreme council yesterday, the Journal says, was allied intervention in Hungary, "where military action seems the only means to end a situation dangerous for Rumania and Poland."

BERLIN, Thursday, July 17. (By the Associated Press).—Count Michael Karolyi, former president of the Hungarian republic, has arrived in Italy after several attempts to leave Hungary and will go to America, according to a Vienna despatch to the Kress Zeitung.

COUNT KAROLYI IS COMING TO AMERICA

Several weeks ago, it is said, he escaped to Austria, but he was made prisoner by the Austrians and returned to Budapest. He then procured the assistance of the Italian military authorities, who sent him in charge of a guard to Italy by way of Innsbruck. The Vienna despatch concludes: "He will, however, have to leave Italy for America immediately."

When the armistice with Austria-Hungary was signed last November, Count Michael Karolyi, who had been the leader of the Hungarian independence party, proclaimed a Hungarian republic. He remained in office until late in March, when he resigned and turned over the authority to the communists headed by Bela Kun. He gave as a reason for his action the plea that he could not recognize the boundaries of Hungary outlined by the peace conference.

According to advices received in peace conference circles in Paris yesterday, Bela Kun has been driven from office and Herr Boehm and Herr Lander have seized the reins of power. Count Karolyi sailed from New York for Europe after a visit of several months in the United States on July 23, 1914. He was detained by the French authorities for several months, but was finally permitted to proceed to Hungary.

John J. Clark was arraigned in police court today on complaints charging him with assault and battery on his wife and daughter. He appealed from a five months' sentence to the house of correction.

Charles Jellison pleaded guilty to stealing a ring valued at $50 from his brother. He was given a suspended sentence to the reformatory, and the ring was returned to its rightful owner.

A large number of juvenile offenders came before Judge Pickman in the first session this morning, and in the majority of cases were placed on probation with the understanding that restitution would be made for damage done.

CONTINUE EMPLOYMENT BUREAU HERE

The much discussed question as to whether the Lowell United States employment bureau would be continued in the face of the seemingly inadequate appropriations made for these bureaus in Massachusetts was definitely settled today when Examiner Cronin of the local bureau received a telegram from Congressman John Jacob Rogers stating that Mr. Denmore, federal director of the employment service, had made a definite appropriation sufficient to cover the expenses of the Lowell office.

In this connection Edward F. McGrady, federal director of the state employment service, paid a visit to the local bureau today, and after complimenting Examiner Cronin and his assistants on the good results accomplished since the inception of the office, arranged plans for the continuing of the office.

Congressman Rogers' telegram is as follows:

Washington, D. C., July 17.
Cornelius P. Cronin, 119 Merrimack st., Lowell, Mass.
Have today had further talk with Director Denmore. His visit to Boston has again been delayed. He now plans to go west again next week and to Massachusetts probably the week after next. No definite date yet fixed. Mr. Denmore tells me that he had definitely appropriated a sufficient amount to cover the expenses of the Lowell office. Mr. Denmore had conference yesterday on Lowell situation.

with Mr. McGrady, federal director for Massachusetts and the above statements were made after Mr. Denmore learned fully Mr. McGrady's point of view on general outlook.

JOHN JACOB ROGERS.
Examiner Cronin said today that he can place fully 100 girls at work in silk mills out-of-town at good wages. Transportation is furnished free. There is also a demand for laundresses and waitresses at North Conway, N. H., the transportation expenses for these positions also being furnished gratis.

A requisition has been received for millwrights, machinists, tin-smiths and blacksmiths for out-of-town work, Examiner Cronin stated.

CROCKER TO RETURN TO UNITED STATES

DUBLIN, July 15 (By the Associated Press).—Richard Croker, former Tammany leader in New York city, will return to the United States in two months, having found the Irish climate unsatisfactory.

Mr. Croker will hold a large sale of his horses soon. He intends, however, to retain several and will continue to be represented on the Irish turf.

Mr. Croker sailed for Liverpool from New York June 5 last on his way to Glencairn, his Irish estate. At that time he said he would return to his Palm beach residence in October. At the time he said he seemed in perfect health, having recovered from his illness of last winter. He expressed great eagerness to see his racing stable just before sailing. At that time he said nothing of selling any horses, but declared that he would continue racing this summer.

PARIS, July 15 (By the Associated Press).—There are no American consuls in German ports as yet. British, French and other European consuls are already clearing ships. The cotton cargo was for Czechoslovakia. The food ships carried cargoes privately owned for German sale.

HONORS FOR PERSHING

London Presents Him Freedom of City and a Sword of Honor

LONDON, July 18.—London honored General Pershing today by presenting him the freedom of the city and a sword of honor in the presence of a distinguished company of Britons and Americans gathered within the historic Guild hall. John W. Davis, the American ambassador, the embassy staff, Rear Admiral Harry S. Knapp and his staff, members of the British government and a number of British generals participated.

General Pershing was applauded by the crowds that had gathered when he made his entry into the city, where the guilds and the aldermen in their customary welcoming roles, lent a picturesque aspect to the scene.

The general found a company of the grenadier guards, with its band, drawn up in the yard. He inspected the guards and then entered the hall and was conducted to the dais, where he was greeted by the lord mayor and lady mayoress.

After the ceremony in the Guild hall the lord mayor entertained the company at luncheon at the Mansion house. General Pershing sat at the right of his host, with Mrs. Davis at the left. Others present were Ambassador Davis, Winston Spencer Churchill, the Earl of Reading, Lord Lee, Field Marshal Sir Douglas Haig and Lady Haig, the Earl of Cavanagh, Walter Hume Long, Viscount Bryce, the members of General Pershing's staff and the commanding officers of the American units which will take part in tomorrow's victory celebration. Members of the American embassy staff, Major General John Biddle and his staff, Rear Admiral Knapp and other American naval officers, Major G. H. Scott and Brigadier G. H. Scott and Brig. Gen. E. M. Maltland of the R-34.

BRYAN FAVORS LEAGUE

But Condemns Any Alliance With France—Would Discredit Both

LINCOLN, Neb., July 15.—In a statement given out here, William J. Bryan, while espousing the League of Nations, condemns any alliance with France. He insists it would be a league within a league, to the discredit of both. The statement says:

"An alliance with France is defended on the ground that it is necessary for protection. The League of Nations gives France the same protection it does other nations. A league within a league would not only discredit the league and proclaim our lack of faith in it, but it would be a destructive force. It would disintegrate the League of Nations and disappoint the hope it has aroused."

France might not mourn for she was opposed to the league from the beginning, but America would mourn and the whole world would suffer. "The president announced at Manchester that our country was not interested in a league unless it included the whole world. He was right then and the people have not changed. That sentiment ought to cause the defeat of the proposed alliance by an overwhelming majority."

"Ratify the League of Nations. Reject the proposed alliance. Consistency that those who favor the league should oppose the alliance. They represent opposite policies."

BELGIAN STEEL CORP.

TO POOL INTERESTS

BRUSSELS, Thursday, July 17 (By the Associated Press).—Ten or 12 of the most powerful steel corporations of Belgium, whose plants were laid waste by the Germans, have decided to pool their interests into one immense undertaking similar to the United States Steel corporation. The ore mines in the Aisne basin and the duchy of Luxembourg will form part of the trust.

LIFT JIFNEY RULES DURING STRIKE

BOSTON, July 18.—In view of the serious situation due to the Elevated strike, the Somerville Board of aldermen, at a special meeting last evening, suspended the operation of regulations in regard to motor vehicles for hire, adopted July 10.

As a result anyone having an auto may use it in Somerville for carrying passengers without a license during the present strike. City Solicitor P. W. Kaan told Joseph B. Robinson, president of the board of aldermen, that the regulations could not be suspended legally, but could be reconsidered. He also questioned the legality of the board's meeting, on the ground that some members had not been properly notified. The vote to suspend was 3 to 7.

Alderman Webster, who opposed the order, raised a "charter objection" after the vote had been taken, under which had he been sustained, the order would have had to lie on the table until the next meeting. President Robinson ruled that the charter objection could not be entertained, as it should have been offered before and not after the vote.

BIG FOREST FIRES ARE

SWEEPING MONTANA

SPOKANE, Wash., July 18.—Forest fires fanned by heavy winds are threatening timber and livestock in western Montana and northern Idaho, according to reports received by federal forest officials here. Several small towns are reported in danger. The flames have driven the fire-fighting crews back. All western Montana was said to be under a pall of smoke.

A band of thousands of sheep were burned when a blaze swept down on Tarkio, a small town west of Missoula, and trapped the animals.

Two ranch houses in the Priest river valley, east of the town of Priest river, Ida., were destroyed by a fire which started Wednesday night and which yesterday was threatening 15 other ranch homes farther up the valley.

MISSOULA, Mont., July 18.—St. Regis, Mont., which was partially destroyed in the forest fires of 1916, has been surrounded by fires on Nigger Hill, which have leaped the divide. The town is completely cut off from help and is declared to be in danger of destruction.

POPE URGES GERMANS TO FORGIVE ENEMIES

ROME, July 18.—(Havas).—Pope Benedict has addressed to the bishops of Germany a letter expressing joy over the removal of the blockade. The letter recommends that an attitude of Christian charity be taken toward the question of reparation for war damages and expresses confidence that the civilized nations, and especially Catholics, will aid the populations brought to a state of extreme need. It is recommended that all thoughts of hatred against former enemies be eliminated from the minds of German Catholics.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

THE STRAND
The one and only Theda Bara, queen vampire of the screen, is appearing in "A Woman There Was" at The Strand. It's one of the best things in which this film favorite had been shown in many months and is making many new admirers for the star. See it and be convinced that Miss Bara is truly the real leader in her class. Then there is Bert Lytell in "One Thing at a Time (Today)," a great picture of the present day. It's the story of a young man who successfully endeavored to win a girl's love, buy a circus and find the strong man. You'll see Lytell in one of his best parts. The remainder of the program is rounded out with the good comedy, the latest Weekly song hits by Robert Carson and organ numbers.

The pony contest is showing a change of leadership each day. Watch the results and see your favorite get support. The new million dollar comedy, "Sunnyside," in which the king of comedians, Charlie Chaplin, appears, will be shown soon.

CITIZENS' COUNTER

STRIKE AT STETTIN
BERLIN, July 18.—A citizens' counter strike began at Stettin Thursday as a protest against the strike which paralyzed transportation facilities there for the last few days. All stores, including food establishments, drug stores and people's kitchens, have been closed, physicians refuse to treat patients, gas and water plants have been shut down and wells throughout the city are already pumped dry. Railroad workers threaten to extend the strike to Stralsund.

FIVE CENT FARES IN FARE DISTRICTS

BOSTON, July 18.—The bill to give relief to the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway company, formerly the Bay State, was ordered to a third reading in the state senate yesterday afternoon by a roll call vote of 25 to 11, after it had been amended, on

ENORMOUS FOOD STORES IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, July 18.—In a report issued yesterday officials of the Illinois department of agriculture declare that enormous quantities of meats, butter and eggs are now in storage in Chicago warehouses chiefly under control of five big packers.

The report states that since the last regular compilation of figures June 1, the stocks of these commodities have grown in abnormal proportions and that their release would go far toward relieving the present shortage and tend to reduce prices.

SOLDIERS GIVE UP POLICIES

WASHINGTON, July 18.—Approximately three-fourths of the four million officers and enlisted men in the military forces who took out policies through the war risk insurance bureau during the war have failed to continue their payments. It has been disclosed at the meetings of the bureau's advisory committee of 15, headed by Charles Evans Hughes.

LOWELL ENTERTAINERS AT CAMP DEVENS

If you've ever sat in the stands at Cambridge and heard the yells when the Crimson team scored a winning goal, then you can understand how $500 bronzed and sturdy doughboys cheered, yelled and roared their applause to 35 Lowell girls who staged an entertainment and dancing party for the boys from "over there" at the Jewish Welfare Hut at Camp Devens last evening. The affair was held under the auspices of the Lowell Jewish Welfare Board, and directed by Mrs. M. E. Harris.

No one has ever said that the Welfare hut was too small, but last evening it was far from large enough to hold the boys from every state in the Union who had returned from hunting the Hun and who abased their way in and filled every nook and cranny of the building.

Following the entertainment program, which consisted of a series of song numbers by well known local singers, impromptu dancing was in order, and the boys who fought and won picked themselves a partner from the corps of Epaulia City dancers and tripped the light fantastic until a late hour to the strains of an overseas jazz band which came down to add its bit to the evening's pleasure.

Among the entertainers whose efforts went way over the top were Miss Rose Brownstein, who sang several catchy songs; Miss Marie Dewire, songs; and Miss Marion Sanderson, novelty songs, accompanied by Bernard Knopf.

The chaperones of the evening were Mrs. Nathan Carp, Mrs. Zimberg, Mrs. I. Keith, Mrs. Stein, Mrs. Pauline Strauss and Mrs. I. Frank.

The hospital committee of the Jewish Welfare board paid its regular Thursday visit to the base hospital during the afternoon, and brought along a supply of smokes, ice cream and fruit for the wounded men. Miss Rose Brownstein and Bernard Knopf sang to the men in the various wards, accompanied by Miss Mae Lebovitz on the piano. The other members of the committee at the hospital were Mrs. Stein and I. Quinn.

GERMANY TO HAVE A $200,000,000 CREDIT

NEW YORK, July 18.—Negotiations for the sale of a large amount of copper to Germany are in progress, and it is expected that they will be concluded in a few days through representatives of German bankers and the Copper Export association. The only question is the establishment here of a sufficient credit for Germany to make the purchase. The vice president of a prominent trust company said today that his institution was willing to go into a $200,000,000 syndicate to make the necessary advance.

It is probable that within the next week such a credit will be tentatively arranged. It will not be used, however, for the purchase of copper alone, but for foodstuffs and other necessities as well. The banking operations will, of course, be contingent upon the approval of the president and the secretaries of state and treasury.

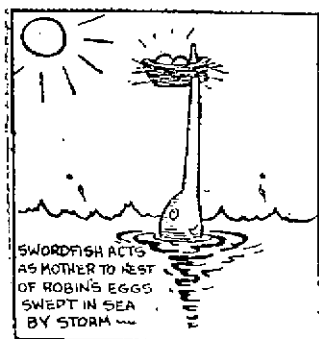

In the meantime, it will be necessary to adopt some means to stabilize exchange if America is to retain European customers and to gain new trade abroad. Foreign exchange is completely demoralized.

At one time today sterling was quoted as low as 4.62½, which is a discount of 12 per cent. This makes it very difficult for British merchants to do business in this country. It is even more difficult for Germany to do business here because of the great demoralization in marks. These are quoted around 7½ cents whereas the par is 23.82.

BIG FISH STORIES WITHOUT "LIKKER"

Proof that the stamping ground isn't completely dried up yet, notwithstanding the July 1 high sign, are the trick fish stories busting in public print. Next year fish yards will have to be less than two per cent, or the likker revenue officers will scout up their origin.

The Sawfish Mystery
FREDRICK, Mich., July 18.—Lumbermen here have been up a tree for the last month owing to a mystifying action taking place with logs floating from here to Flapjack. When they arrived at the latter town they were found sawed up in planks, two-by-fours and shingles. Investigation showed that a sawfish had made its way up the river, thereby unraveling the mystery. The men are thinking of installing an aquarium in the sawmill for the sawfish as a permanent place of business.

Bell Ringing Mystery

JAZZVILLE, Ia., July 15.—Farmers in this vicinity were puzzled for some time over a bell ringing under the Hogsnoot bridge exactly at 9 o'clock every morning. The mystery was explained when a prominent farmer happened to be crossing the bridge at that hour, and noticed a big school-master fish ringing a cowbell. A minute later a school of bullheads swam up to the spot. As the creek was quite low, he noticed an old arithmetic set against a rock, evidently tossed over by a future citizen on the last day of school.

Miss Mary B. Jenkins of Bath is getting ready to gather the first crop of cotton ever grown in Maine. The plants are thrifty and according to present conditions should bear an early crop, providing the weather is warm. Miss Jenkins planted the cotton as an experiment to find out whether cotton could be grown in New England.

MY ANNUAL JULY SALE

Exactly 530 Suitings at the Price I Quote Below MEN, This Is Decidedly the Greatest Tailoring Event of the Season

Hysteria has—and should have—no place in American business, I do not fear others—surely I should not be afraid of myself. If ever in our national life it were fitting that the citizens should reflect the prosperity of the country in their own appearances—the occasion is now. But economy is also a duty. We should not tolerate waste.

This Remarkable Tailoring Offer to the men of Lowell is for this reason particularly opportune.

IT GIVES YOU A CHANCE TO SECURE AT THE RIDICULOUS LOW PRICE OF $22.50 A TAILOR MADE SUIT, AUTHENTIC STYLE, PERFECTION IN FIT AND AN ABSOLUTE GUARANTEE BY A CONCERN OF SPOTLESS REPUTATION.

TAKE YOUR PICK. 530 SUITINGS, WHEN THE LAST ONE IS SOLD THIS OFFER WILL POSITIVELY END.

Come Today if possible. The sale is limited to 550 customers. It will cost nothing to investigate—compare the woollens with suitings priced elsewhere at $35.00. If a preponderance of evidence can establish a fact, you will be convinced beyond a question of doubt that these woollens offered are so extraordinary that you cannot afford to lose this opportunity of placing your order for one or two suitings at this price of $22.50. Any sensible man will investigate this offer.

Some things are simple, so simple that they need to be explained over and over again, there's nothing mysterious about my institution—or this tailoring offer—it's strictly my idea of advanced methods of advertising to gain new customers.

EIGHT-FULL PIECES OF BLUE SERGES and black unfinished worsteds included in this sale.

BATTERY F ASSOCIATES HOLD MEETING

Battery F Associates held a busy meeting last night at the War Camp Community club in Dutton street, with Fred Gleason, chairman, presiding. Secretary Daniel Gray read the minutes of the previous meeting and they were accepted as a statement for the records. It was voted to take some action on the appointment of a memorial firing squad to officiate at all funerals of Lowell world war veterans until the organization of the American Legion post is completed and the following men were chosen: W. C. MacBrayne, Daniel Gray, Fred Gleason, Alfred LaLiberte, George Morley, Martin Cashman, Armon Alix and Bugler Wallace Gurney.

It was announced that Col. Herber was reorganizing the 102nd regiment simply for the purpose of holding the men together as a fraternal body and that he would soon visit Lowell for this purpose. The meeting voted to conduct a smoker entertainment for the event.

The battery offered full support for the coming French celebration and voted to make the community club its headquarters in the future.

450,000 GERMANS STILL HELD BY FRENCH

BERNE, Thursday, July 18.—According to official despatches from Berlin, it is expected in Germany that the return home of German prisoners of war in France will begin about the middle of August. They will return to Germany by way of Switzerland at the rate of about two thousand per day. The Germans still held by the French number about 450,000.

Have The Sun mailed to your vacation address.

RUSH ORGANIZATION OF CAVALRY UNITS

WASHINGTON, July 18.—Organization of the extra cavalry division provided for in the war department plans for the national guard will be pushed vigorously, it was said yesterday at the department.

The infantry divisions will be numbered 51 to 66, inclusive, instead of 26 to 42, as during the war. The numbers up to and including 50 are reserved for regular army divisions, most of which would be created only in the event of war. Plans for the regular organization call for a cavalry division recruited from the entire country, but stationed in Texas.

BIG LAWN PARTY At Sacred Heart Church Grounds Tomorrow

Arrangements are being completed for the annual open-air reunion of the Sacred Heart parishioners, which takes place on the parochial grounds, Moore street, tomorrow afternoon and evening. An excellent program of athletic events has been arranged for the afternoon. The junior events will include egg races, money hunts and pie-eating contests. Valuable prizes will be awarded. As in former years, the midway, bubbling over with enjoyment for young and old, and presenting all the delightful features of the old-time "night before," will be one of the main attractions. The gaily decorated refreshment booths, presided over by many of the pretty girls of the parish, lend an additional charm to the gala occasion. The children's delight, the "merry-go-round," will be there with bells on. Those who have been interested in the recent transatlantic flights, and wish to experience some of the thrills of "flying through the air" may gratify that wish by taking a ride on the "Razzle Dazzle." It furnishes all the thrills without the danger of dropping in midocean. In the evening when the thousands of varicolored lights cast their brilliance over the midway, a veritable fairyland is presented. A fine moving picture show, and a band concert by the Sacred Heart jazz band will be pleasing features of the evening program. At 6:30 o'clock a panoramic picture of the crowd will be taken. Nothing has been left undone to make this coming event a grand success, and the committee on arrangements has made provision for a record breaking attendance.

LAND GREED OF THE RICH TROUBLES JAPAN

BY H. H. KINTON
Special Far East Correspondent for The Lowell Sun

TOKYO, Japan.—Japan, in its advance toward modern conditions, is accumulating a vast and varied assortment of modern problems. Probably the most pressing is housing, with the servant situation a close second.

Japan is doing a great amount of building, but most of it is of banks and business offices and narikin mansions and gardens, and all these, of course, especially the latter, mean the tearing down of many of the smaller houses of the middle and lower classes.

The population of Tokyo, for instance, increases at the rate of something like 100,000 a year, and what building of dwellings there is is wholly inadequate. The result is a distressing shortage, with rents going up, lumber going up, in fact, nearly everything going up except houses—and Japanese airships, as the jokesters delight in telling.

Kobe, likewise, has its worries over the shortage of houses, and at a recent conference of its leading citizens, presided over by Mayor Kashima, it was decided to build as many dwellings as was possible with the municipal funds available.

Within a fortnight contracts for 1000 houses had been let, all of which are to be ready for occupancy within six months.

The committee in charge of the project finds that the city will be able to rent its houses from 30 to 40 per cent cheaper than the ordinary prices. Besides this, the tenant will save a considerable amount of red tape, not to speak of the exorbitant deposit of six or eight months' rent, only one month's rent in advance being required by the city.

Dr. HEWSON

suggests that citizens of the capital should establish co-operative building societies such as flourish in western countries.

The viscount has also urged that the rich should refrain from costly banquets and help relieve the situation by investing their surplus cash in houses. He attributes at least a part of the present problem to the selfishness of the narikin who has been going in for mansions and extensive gardens.

"Millionaires buy up the land around their homes, tear down the buildings and turn available living space into gardens for their own pleasure, surrounding these gardens by high walls," complains the mayor.

"I feel that there should be some restrictions put upon the size of the property any one family should occupy."

"I am of the opinion that not more than from 300 to 500 tatso (a tatso is 35 square feet) should be allowed any one person. If this restriction were enforced there would be ample building space for middle and lower class citizens. The same restrictions ought to be applied to tea houses and restaurants, which use much ground for their interior parks and gardens."

The newspaper Kokumin has started a campaign to induce capitalists to build more houses for Tokyo. It reports Tokyo where people have come to Tokyo to live and have been compelled to stay in hotels for a year or more without finding a house to live in.

These various suggestions of Viscount Tajiri, backed up by newspaper campaigns, evidently have yielded some fruit, for the Residential House Purchase guild has just formed, and its first task will be to build a large number of small houses at a cost of about 1000 yen each. These will be rented at 13 yen a month. The guild begins business with a capital of a million yen, and it is predicted that Baron Sakatani, former minister of finance, will be its first president.

Somewhat less vexing and pressing than the housing problem is the servant question. But it is considerably younger and may be expected to develop rapidly enough.

The old relationship between master and servant is fast yielding to the aggressive and aggravating modern system of employer and employee. The Japanese maids, or "amah-sans," who have been known as the most docile and submissive creatures under the sun, are asking for more wages and less work.

"We are greatly surprised at the growing expectations of those girls who seek positions as servants," an employment agency manager said. "They want to remove the discrimination existing between master and servant, demanding a proper recognition of their personal rights. A young girl who recently visited our office to seek a position as servant wanted freedom from 1 to 6 o'clock in the afternoon so that she might study English with the object, as she told us of becoming an astronomer."

INTERNATIONAL INSTITUTE ENTERTAINS COMMUNITY CENTRE GIRLS AT MIDNIGHT HALL

Wednesday night at Middesex hall 75 girls, American and foreign born, had an evening of fun together. American songs and songs from the old country were sung, and old as well as new dances were on the program. Greek refreshments were served and throughout the evening each American girl had a foreign girl as her partner. The national anthem was sung at the close of the evening.

Health and Happiness

Women of today seem to listen to every call of duty except the supreme one that tells them to guard their health. Home duties, church duties, war activities, and the hundred-and-one calls for charitable enterprises soon lead women to overdo. Nervousness, headaches, backaches and female troubles are the inevitable result.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I was very weak, always tired, my back ached, and I felt sickly most of the time. I went to a doctor and he said I had nervous indigestion, which, added to my weak condition, kept me worrying most of the time—and he said if I could not stop that, I could not get well. I heard so much about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound my husband wanted me to try it. I took it for a week and felt a little better. I kept it up for three months, and I feel fine and can eat anything now without distress or nervousness. Health and happiness? Yes, I have both now."—Mrs. J. W. BROWN, 2245 North Taylor Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

The majority of women nowadays overdo, there are so many demands upon their time and strength; the result is invariably a weakened, run-down nervous condition with headaches, backache, irritability and depression—and soon more serious ailments develop. Avoid them by taking in time

ARMY INVESTIGATION

Dallinger Anxious To Continue Probe of Charges of Cruelty to Troops

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 15.—Congressman Frederick W. Dallinger announced that he will request the special committee investigating charges of cruelty to American troops abroad to summon more witnesses further to substantiate his charges.

In his statement Mr. Dallinger made an attack upon the "whitewash method" of regular army officers. He said that "Hard Boiled Smith," the officer who was sentenced to three years for mistreatment of prisoners, received a fine punishment from enlisted men when he reached Fort Jay, New York, the other day, and that he was now in the hospital.

Mr. Dallinger's statement is as follows:

Assured By Baker

"Since the beginning of the war I have called on the war department to investigate specific instances of inefficiency, and specific charges of one kind or another, concerning the treatment of our soldiers. In every instance, Secretary Baker has diplomatically assured me that an investigation would be made. As a result, and ordinarily after several months delay, I have been positively assured, either that a most thorough investigation showed no truth whatsoever in these charges, or that they had been greatly exaggerated, and whatever faults had been found, had been corrected. Always there is delay and nothing is done.

"As a result, you may believe me when I say that I am thoroughly disgusted with these army official investigations. The caste system in vogue in our army makes an investigation nothing more than a joke. Those regular army officers naturally want to protect themselves and each other, and it becomes a case of simply 'my helping you if you'll help me, let's work together and pull the wool over the eyes of Mr. Baker, congress and the country.'

Testimony of Cruelty

"At the investigation called as a result of charges made by me on the floor of the house, of cruelties to soldiers in France, Congressman Flood asked me why I didn't let the war department do the investigating. Congress did the investigating, and as the result the six witnesses who testified to the most awful cruelties imaginable, proved within 77 hours all I had charged, and further proof can be furnished by several hundred other soldiers who are willing to testify. The congressional investigating committee got results in 77 hours after my charges were made. If the war department had done this investigating, it would have taken at least 77 days to get any kind of a report, and at least 77 years to get such facts brought to light as we discovered in a matter of hours.

"Russell N. Anderson, a former sergeant in the A.E.F., testified Tuesday to having read the charges brought against Hard Boiled Smith and the sentence given him. Mr. Anderson told the committee under oath that in spite of the evidence of many witnesses who testified at the court-martial of this Hard Boiled Smith, the court merely sentenced him to be dishonorably discharged from the service. Evidence of over 50 witnesses showed the most horrible cruelties perpetrated on numberless American soldiers, and yet the court only gave the man primarily to blame a dishonorable discharge. Why didn't the court have him strapped on the wrist? Later the reviewing authority objected and it seems that in addition to this punishment the man was given a sentence of three years.

Other Witnesses to Be Called

"In the next few days I shall ask the investigating committee to call other witnesses. Among them will be officers who made up the court which tried Lieutenant Smith and Lieutenant Mason. I feel sure that the committee will find among these witnesses men who will testify that the trial of those two men was a joke; that for example there were over 50 witnesses who testified that Lieutenant Mason clubbed prisoners, robbed prisoners and stole their money; that those prisoners, or most of them, had no charges brought against them and were in every way innocent. Lieutenant Mason admitted a charge of being drunk and disorderly, the punishment for which is dishonorable discharge from the service. That is all he got.

"Hard Boiled Smith arrived at Fort Jay, N. Y., the other day and was almost at once seen by some of his victims there serving sentence. He was recognized by them and before the guards arrived he was beaten to a pulp and I believe he is now in the hospital recovering from a punishment meted out to him by those very men whom he had himself tortured. It is thus that man takes the law into his own hands when the courts fail."

FOR PROTECTION OF BELGIUM BY U. S.

BRUSSELS, Thursday, July 17.—Two of the various sections of the chamber which have been examining the peace treaty have asked the government whether it is possible to secure the protection of Belgium by the United States in the same way as protection has been given to France.

SOLDIERS SNEERED AT

Gen. Edwards Finds Prejudice Against Uniform—Favors "Civies" on Furloughs

BOSTON, July 15.—Major General Clarence R. Edwards of the Northeastern department and former commander of the 26th (Yankee) Division, has requested the war department that soldiers stationed at the coast defenses be allowed to wear civilian clothes while on pass or furlough. Investigation has disclosed, he informed the Washington officials, that pre-war prejudice against the army uniform is apparent.

During a tour of the coast defenses in the department, which the general terminated yesterday, he heard many complaints that enlisted men were openly sneered at. Intelligence officers detailed by the general to make an investigation substantiated the soldiers' stories.

TO OBTAIN WINE FOR RELIGIOUS PURPOSES

WASHINGTON, July 18.—Regulations issued by the bureau of internal revenue afford religious organizations opportunity to obtain wine for sacramental purposes.

Where sacramental wines are produced and distributed under clerical supervision, as in certain monasteries of the Roman Catholic church, the usual internal revenue tax must be paid and accurate records kept of all shipments.

In case of purchases of wine from dealers not under church supervision, the bureau expresses a preference that an affidavit of the use to which the wine is to be put accompany the order for the protection of both the seller and the purchaser. Churches not having hierarchical organizations will obtain wine on the application of the minister or duly authorized officer of the congregation.

Jewish congregations, each of which is a separate entity under no superior priests, will obtain wine for their services on application of the rabbi. The historic mead, brewed from grapes and honey, will continue to be used in the passover feast. The bureau has ruled, contrary to the erroneous reports that mead was prohibited, that the drink may be made in accordance with ancient custom in the homes of Jewish families, when intended for use in religious festivals.

FISHING GREETED IN HOUSE OF COMMONS

LONDON, July 15 (By the Associated Press).—Gen. John J. Pershing, commander-in-chief of the American Expeditionary Forces, met the military members of parliament in the committee room of the house of commons yesterday. He was enthusiastically received when introduced by Winston Spencer Churchill, secretary for war. Mr. Churchill called attention to the fact that Gen. Pershing had been there before he and his troops had fought side by side with the British, and added the secretary, "every day our feeling has grown stronger for these gallant men and their gallant commander."

In an address in which he discussed the sentiment of the American soldiers and people, Gen. Pershing said: "We are not a military people; we inherited from you the fear of a standing army. We were wholly unprepared, although some of us felt that we would sooner or later enter the war. Had it not been for the lessons learned from you I am sure our efforts would not have been what they have been. Our associations from the start were most pleasant. I was accorded a visit to general headquarters and learned from your commander-in-chief what was deemed most important for us to consider first."

"It was our preference to fight beside our brothers in blood, our own kinsmen, whose course, aggression and tenacity we have always admired and which has had such an influence on our army in Europe. But we found the channel ports fully occupied with your supplies; therefore, we were driven to the southern ports of France and compelled to choose other railroads in the eastern part of the western front."

"We always had in mind the possibility of using our troops on any part of the western front, and, in planting our warehouses, we located them at a central point from which railroads radiated, and later found this sound for we had to reach many parts of the front."

"We took up the question of training with your troops with general headquarters and found everything placed at our disposal. Officers were detailed to help us establish a staff college and corps schools; even officers of field rank instructed our men in bayonet and bomb-throwing, thereby setting a fine example to our own officers."

"I recall also that your leaders in the war office, always direct in expression of opinion, agreed with me and my superiors that the Americans had formed their own army to fight in their own way, and did everything possible to help us carry out our aim. Field Marshal Haig told me that that was the only way, except possibly to meet an emergency, and hoped, as I did, that some day our armies would be located side by side.

"Fortunately circumstances so shaped that, instead of having to continue to this year, we were enabled to end the war by the combined attack of the three armies. The association thus brought about has led to an understanding between the two armies that I am sure will be as lasting as time. I feel that the discharged and demobilized soldiers will carry with them into private life the necessity for closer and firmer union. To the end that we may be united as peoples like-wise forever."

"It seems to me that all discussion of ways and means to prevent war and of plans for combined nations must be based on a union in thought and in heart of the Anglo-Saxon peoples."

Gen. Pershing last night attended a ball given by Lady John Hubert Ward, Lady Ward was the daughter of the late Whitelaw Reid, American ambassador at the court of St. James.

BIG INCREASE IN LOWELL'S STATE TAX

(Special to The Sun)

STATE HOUSE, Boston, July 15.—Lowell's contribution to the state tax this year will be $22,600 more than last year, although the total tax assessed by the legislature remains the same, $11,000,000.

The increase is due to the new basis of apportionment recently adopted, and which is to continue in effect for two years after this. Under the new arrangement, the state tax is based upon the valuation of real estate and the personal property in each city and town, as determined by the local assessors, in proportion to the valuation of all such property in the entire commonwealth. In past years it has been based upon the actual valuation of such property, plus the tax commissioner's estimate of the value of intangible personal property in each city and town which was not taxed by the local assessors.

The effect of the change is to impose a larger proportionate share of the tax upon cities and towns which have taxed their real estate at its full value, while the assessment is relatively lower upon municipalities which have adopted low valuations for real estate, and in the past have failed to tax all the intangible personal property owned within their limits.

Bedford	$220	$420
Billerica	14,050	11,880
Cheimsford	12,510	10,820
Dracut	600	600
Lowell	234,520	211,320
Pepperell	500	500

FIRE IN AVON STREET

An alarm from box 16 shortly before 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon was for a threatening blaze in the attic of the home of Mrs. Mary Kelly at 182 Avon street. The blaze started on the upper floor of the house and when discovered was burning through the roof. The firemen responded to the alarm in haste and succeeded in confining the damage to the roof and the upper chambers. Mrs. Kelly who was in the house at the time of the fire, was completely overcome and her condition was such that it was necessary to summon a physician.

BELA KUN OUSTED IN HUNGARY

PARIS, July 15.—The Hungarian communist government has been ousted, according to despatches from reliable sources in Vienna, received by the peace conference.

Troops returning from the Czech front were reported entering Budapest in large numbers. Budapest was in disorder.

Herr Boehm and Herr Lander have taken over control of the communist government.

Bela Kun was reported in a Budapest despatch received Wednesday to have broken off with nearly all the socialist leaders. Officers of the soviet army were said to be deserting at every opportunity. The communist leader was quoted as having told his minister of education that he was tired of trying to ride socialist and communist horses at the same time.

Herr Boehm, who has been commander of the Hungarian armies, was reported in prison, in a despatch from Vienna on Wednesday. This despatch also stated that Bela Kun was seeking some excuse to leave Hungary and that he would not return.

PELLETIER HONORED BY POPE BENEDICT

BOSTON, July 15.—Cable despatches from Rome received yesterday state that Joseph C. Pelletier, supreme advocate of the Knights of Columbus and district attorney of Boston, has been elevated to the rank of knight commander of St. Gregory the Great by Pope Benedict XV. This honor was conferred in recognition of Mr. Pelletier's services as a member of the K. of C. committee on war activities. The same order was given to James A. Flaherty of Philadelphia, William

P. Parkin of New York, and Edward L. Hearn of New York, all of whom have been prominent in the war work of the K. of C. abroad.

The knight of St. Gregory is one of the highest honors that a Catholic layman can receive from the church.

Joseph C. Pelletier and James A. Flaherty are now members of the K. of C. committee which has in hand the work of organizing a nation-wide system of K. of C. night schools and supplementary education for working men.

This is a picture of Miss Martha Throop, the "modern Venus," using her favorite hair tonic! Miss Throop, who at 16, has the physical proportions of the Venus de Milo, has heavy, lustrous hair to match her beauty. Such exercise as this makes the blood rush to her scalp and stimulates her hair.

FOR BEAUTIFUL HAIR—EXERCISE! SAYS GIRL WHO "MEASURES UP TO VENUS"

BY MARTHA THROOP
The best hair tonic in the world is—exercise!

I have read dozens of advertisements of wonder-working shampoos and tonics but I never knew or heard of anything so absolutely sure to make the hair grow as giving it plenty of fresh air and exercise.

While standing before a mirror one morning I suddenly dawned on me that my hair was growing long and more luxuriant.

I couldn't figure out the reason at first but now I am convinced it was the physical exercise I began to take regularly when I was about thirteen.

I worked in a gym with my brother and I always loved to fool around the parallel bars. I studied the thing out and came to the conclusion that such stunts as shown in the picture made my hair grow.

Why shouldn't it?
Exercise like this throws the blood into the head; it helps nourish the scalp.

Blood is a cleanser and revivifier. Hair will grow if the scalp is healthy. It is as plain as A.B.C.

Nearly every woman has noticed that when she is ill or very tired and nervous her hair loses its lustre and life—and, that, on the contrary, when she feels well and energetic her hair brightens up and is fluffy and full of life and snap.

It is rather easy to tell a woman's physical condition by looking at her hair.

I do all my exercises with my hair hanging loose, or in a loose braid. I never use any tonic or prepared shampoo—just keep it clean and never neglect the nightly brushing.

FOR DELICIOUS ICE CREAM—You thoroughly enjoy the rich ice cream you make with Puddine. A tablespoonful of Puddine—with the recipe given in the package—makes your ice cream rich and velvety. Ice cream made with Puddine requires less milk and eggs, too!

Puddine is a dessert in itself—an easy one to make. It's the sure dessert—a smooth, firm mold of rich chocolate, cream vanilla, rose vanilla, orange, lemon—in fact, your favorite flavor.

Puddine is pure and wholesome, too—good for the children and enjoyed by grown-ups. And package costing but 15c will serve 15 people. You can use as much or as little as you need at one time. You can get it at your grocer's.

Try serving Puddine with fresh fruit.

Fifteen Years of Aches and Pains Of Rheumatism Quickly Leave

LOWELL WOMAN SAYS SHE HAS AT LAST SECURED REAL
REMEDY FOR RHEUMATISM

"I think I have at last found a real remedy for rheumatism," said Mrs. C. A. Cheswell of 5 Shaffer St., Lowell, Mass.

"I have had rheumatism for about fifteen years in my hands and feet; they have been swollen to almost twice their natural size and extremely painful. My feet were so sore that many times it was impossible for me to walk."

"My hands were also swollen, stiff, and I could hardly bend them. I was very much afraid I would be crippled with the disease as I had seen so many troubled in the same way."

"Naturally I had tried about everything recommended, but each time I was disappointed; nothing seemed to reach my case. Finally I decided to give this Weldon a trial. I had only taken it a short time when the swelling left my hands and feet, the pain disappeared and I would hardly know I ever had rheumatism."

"I am recommending Weldon to all my friends who suffer from rheumatism, for it is truly a wonder-worker for that disease."

Weldon is the new remedy for rheumatism, which is composed of herbs, roots and barks with other medicinal ingredients and tends to drive rheumatism from the blood. Weldon does not contain alcohol or habit-forming drugs of any kind. One trial proves the value of this remarkable preparation.

Don't suffer another day—get Weldon now at Dows' drug stores and reliable druggists everywhere—Ad.

Powerful Pile Remedy Discovered

Has Never Failed to End Most Obstinate Case of Piles in Few Days.

For years it has been proved that so-called external remedies applied to or inserted in the rectum cannot cure piles, and at the same time can only temporary relief. Surgical operations also do not remove this cause, but simply the formation.

This wonderful prescription, known as Miro Pile Remedy, is so efficient in the treatment of piles that even chronic cases of from 20 to 30 years standing with profuse bleeding have been completely cured in from three to ten days. Think of it! Just a few doses of a carefully balanced prescription and the most persistent case of piles is absorbed, never to return.

Just read what Henry J. Stone of the Lorain, Ohio, Fire Department says: "I had bleeding and protruding piles for three years and tried all kinds of remedies without result, but was thoroughly cured after taking one bottle of Miro."

Frank J. Phillips of Bird Island, Minnesota, says: "I used half a bottle of Miro. It worked like a charm. I no longer suffer with bleeding and protruding piles. I never regretted the money, such blessing as I am now enjoying. I would have used the whole bottle, but it was not necessary."

All pharmacists dispense Miro or can get it for you on short notice. Surely it's worth the little trouble to obtain it to be rid of piles forever.

IMPORTANT—What is known as itching piles are not piles in the true sense of the word, although this condition may accompany a true case of piles. For this condition Miro Pile Ointment has been prepared as in such cases it is not necessary to take the internal prescription.

If your druggist cannot supply you we will gladly send either of the above, mail charges paid, on receipt of price. Internal Treatment $1.50, War Tax 5c. Ointment 50c. War Tax 2c extra. Guaranteed Remedies Co., Elyria, Ohio.

LONG RANGE CANNON

French Engineer Designed
One Which Would Have
Silenced "Big Bertha"

PARIS, Thursday, July 17.—While giving evidence before a committee of the chamber of deputies investigating the Briey question today, M. L. Bourgeois, chief engineer of the navy department, said that at the time Paris was being bombarded by German long range guns, he had designed a cannon with a range of 100 miles which could be put in position in an hour.

He stated that previous to that time, he had urged upon Albert Thomas, then under-secretary of state for war and munitions, the importance of bombarding the Briey iron works and had been asked to design a long range cannon. His plans, however, were sent from one committee to another and the order to manufacture it was not given until February, 1918. The gun was ready for action at the time the armistice was signed, he said.

NEW 48 HOUR LAW IN EFFECT TODAY

BOSTON, July 18.—Announcement was made yesterday afternoon by the state board of labor and industries that the new 48-hour law, which was approved by Gov. Coolidge April 15, takes effect today.

The following statement was issued by the board yesterday afternoon:

"This law provides that no child under 18 years of age and no woman shall be employed in labor in any factory or workshop or in any manufacturing, mercantile or mechanical establishment, telegraph office or telephone exchange or by any express or transportation company more than nine hours in any one day nor more than 48 hours in any one week."

"This law is regarded as another forward step which Massachusetts has taken for the workers of the commonwealth. In connection with this law, it is also of interest to learn that Massachusetts has been designated by the federal government as one of the states in which the employment certificate issued under the laws of the state has the same force and effect as a federal certificate of age under the terms of the child labor law act."

"The state board of labor and industries, which has jurisdiction over the enforcement of this law, has sent out to employers generally throughout the commonwealth the new time notices to be used in connection with the new law."

U. S. CABLE CENSORSHIP WILL END JULY 24

Don't Spoil Your Hair By Washing It

When you wash your hair, be careful what you use. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

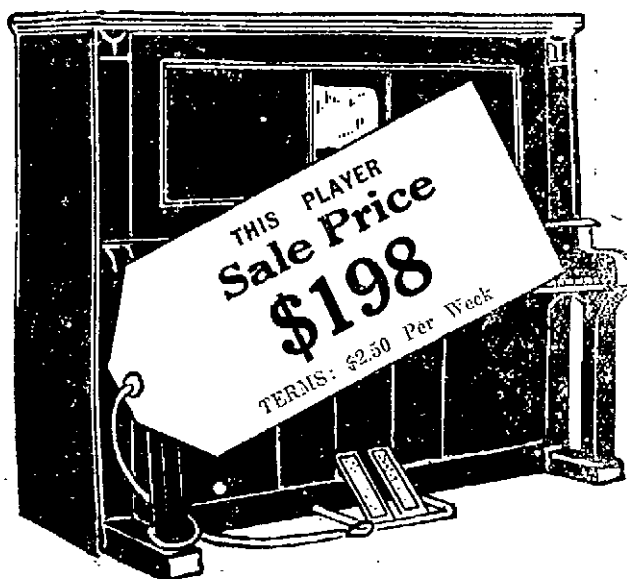

The best thing to use is Multisilf coconut oil shampoo, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap and heats anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, and bright. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt, and dandruff.—Ad.

O'Connor Now Acting Manager at Portland—League Will Not Last Long

PORTLAND, Me., July 18.—Heinie Wagner has quit the Portland New England League team and Pres. John H. Donnelly of Lowell has assumed ownership and control.
Jack O'Connor, right fielder, catcher since Sweetland disappeared a few days ago, is acting as manager.
President Donnelly writes a Portland friend that it will be useless to attempt to finish the season with four clubs, but that he hopes to continue through next week with Haverhill and Fitchburg, playing in Lewiston and Portland, and also that he is seeking an eight-city circuit for 1920 with Lowell and Lawrence barred as punishment for quitting the league in mid-season. Attendance in Portland, not large at any stage of the season, has dwindled steadily in the past fortnight.

"It is the news, the truth and the fact," says Donnelly. "This is the standard. The Sun follows in printing city, state and national news."

Joe Currie vs. Phil Logan
TONIGHT

KALAMAZOO, Mich., July 18.—The Cox colors raced home in front yesterday when McGregor the Great captured the $3000 Columbia Hotel purse for 2:13 trotters. It was the feature event on the Grand Circuit race card and brought out a field of 11 starters. The son of Peter the Great showed his class throughout the contest and won as he pleased, despite the size and class of the field. There were 60 horses to seriously threaten the Cox mount. He drew 10th place for the start of the race, immediately dashed to the front and won lengths to the pole in 2:06 1/4.

The second heat was faster and Hollywood Naam, driven by Dodge, tried hard to win. McGregor the Great was a bit rough gated in the stretch, but Cox sat tight and urged him on, winning by half a length in 2:05 1/4.

The third was a renewal of the others as far as Cox was concerned, and was featured by the manner in which Tommy Murphy rushed Fenesta to the front and took second place right under the wire in 2:07 1/4. The betting on this race was lively with McGregor the Great and Fenesta even money favorites against the field.

The 2:08 trot was an upset for the talent, which picked Allie Lou to win and played her heavily. Gentry C. Brees and Peter also had supporters. But the winner was in the field. Hollywood Kate, driven by Dodge, after finishing ninth in the first heat, went ahead and took the next two in impressive style, narrowly winning her own race, though hard pressed. Brees captured the first heat.

The 2-year-old trot brought out a field of five likely youngsters. Natalie the Great, a Peter filly, was the favorite. Geers drove Dudette and Cox piloted Day Star, another Peter colt. This pair forced the race into a trot, two miles in 2:14 1/4 and 2:15 1/4, respectively. The other starters were Sister Azoff and Elstout.

The 2:14 pace for half-mile horses proved to be a hot contest. Captain Heir at Law won the first and second heats and then by a bad break finished fourth. The favorite, Joe Mack won the third heat. The fourth mile was a battle from wire to wire. Captain Heir at Law coming from behind and winning by a scant nose. The time was 2:07 3/4.

PIGEON FLIES 1000 MILES IN 11 DAYS

The 1000-mile race for homing pigeons, under the auspices of the United Homing Pigeon Concours of Massachusetts, was won yesterday by Belle-rue Lady, owned by Robert C. Huddy of 130 Metropolitan ave., Nostindale. The course was from Galesburg, Ill., to this city. Fifteen birds were entered and Huddy's is the only one which has returned thus far. They started July 6 at 5:15 p. m., and Belle-rue Lady arrived yesterday afternoon at 5:16. It took her 11 days 10 hours 31 minutes and 24 seconds to complete the trip.

FASTEST MILE OF YEAR AT MAINE

BANGOR, Me., July 18.—The fastest mile stepped on a Maine track this year was in the free-for-all at Bass park yesterday afternoon. The old Grand Circuit horse, The Problem, won the second heat of the day, beating the American crew by half a length in 2:10 1/4 and the third heat in 2:11. He was driven home hard in all three heats by B. H. Brett, a Walter Cox entry.

Cabal Grand of Joe Johnson's string failed to show after the first heat of the 2:21 class and the Duke of Canuck, after finishing far back in two heats, took three straight in the 2:17 mixed. Colonel Patch, a Bangor horse, after taking two heats made a bad break in the third and had to go again.

The 2:21 was taken handily in three straight by Ruth Cochran of the Hudson stables by Guilford. Nearly every heat ended in a whipping drive.

WILDE ON POINTS

Pal Moore Loses To English Flyweight in London

LONDON, July 18.—Jimmy Wilde, the British flyweight champion, defeated Pal Moore of Memphis, Tenn., in a 20-round bout at the Olympia last night. The referee gave the decision to Wilde on points.

Twenty thousand persons witnessed the fight. Moore administered much punishment to his antagonist in the early stages of the bout, but at the end of the 12th round Wilde led slightly on points.

In the 14th round Moore sent a jab to Wilde's fourth, which made the blood spurt. It was evident in the last rounds that Moore was trying for a knockout, but Wilde's ringcraft and cleverness prevented the American from carrying out his plan.

On the invitation of the prince of Wales, Gen. John J. Pershing occupied the royal box with the prince and his brother, Prince Albert. The party was given an ovation. Gen. Pershing frequently waved his hands or bowed his acknowledgment to the plaudits of the crowd.

GREAT BOUTS AT C.A.A.
Currie Given Decision Over Logan—Conley and Goulette in Whirlwind Number

Joe Currie of New Haven and Phil Logan of Pittsburgh fought a whirlwind 12-round bout at the Crescent rink last night, battling hard from going "goes" with unceasing fury even when the final clang of the bell was sounded. Referee Lynch called the bout a draw, but his decision did not please the majority of the fans.

Currie and Logan proved about as evenly a matched pair of outlaws as ever formed here. Logan was taller and possessed longer reach, even did most of the forcing and at long range boxing had it on his opponent. Currie, short and stocky, carried a heavy hammer and excelled at in-fighting. The boys lost no time cutting down to business, and they fought furiously from beginning to end. The final round found both in wonderful condition, especially after the strenuous battling, and their efforts made a big hit with the fans. As the boys left the ring they were applauded to the echo.

For real toe to toe slugging and vigorous fighting all the way, few bouts ever staged in the city could equal the eight-round number with Happy Conley of Lowell and Young Goulette of Lawrence as the principals. They hammered their way into the hearts of all present and put up a bout that will be recorded as one of the greatest of the season. Goulette, a little heavier than Conley, took the lead at the start, but Happy never backed away. He stood in there and mixed it in lively fashion, and brought down the house on several occasions. Goulette probed a "bear" in taking it, and also showed exceptional ability in handling out stiff punishment. It was a real thrashing affair, and the draw decision seemed to please the majority.

Charlie Mitchell of Braintree and Young Drew of Lawrence appeared in a bout scheduled for eight rounds. It ended in four, when with Mitchell hanging on the ropes after taking a fusillade of blows from Drew, the referee intervened and pointed to Drew. Mitchell made many friends here by his great work against his younger and heavier opponent. He floored Drew in both the first and second rounds, but in the third the Lawrence boy found a defense for Mitchell's kangaroo attack and gave him an artistic lacing. The referee's action met with the approval of all.

In the opening bout, Joe E. Helle, Lowell veteran of a "thousand" battles, met Arthur Ross of Boston, and for three rounds the Lowell boy more than held his own with his younger adversary. After that, however, Ross began to pepper Johnny and was beating him badly in the fifth, when a

INTER-ALLIED REGATTA ON SEINE

PARIS, Wednesday, July 16.—Elimination heats were rowed in the inter-allied regatta on the Seine today over the mile and a half course from the St. Cloud bridge to Sturesnes.

In the single sculls the first heat was won by Radford of New Zealand with Major Paul Whittington of Boston second and Buxton of England third. In the second heat, Donas of Italy was first and Girin of France second.

France won the first heat of the four-oared event, with Canada second, Italy third and Belgium fourth. The American crew won the second heat, defeating the New Zealanders.

Australia won the first heat of the eight-oared race, Czechoslovakia being second and Italy third. In the second heat, New Zealand was first, Canada second, Belgium third and Portugal fourth. The Cambridge, England, crew won the third heat, beating the American crew by half a length in the best race of the day. The French crew was third.

We have reaped a great harvest at the expense of this company. The stock is the best we have seen in any tire store; in fact the reason why the Richardson Company failed is because they stocked heavily with tires which were too good for the class of trade they were catering to. First Step in Resumption of Diplomatic Relations

VERSAILLES, Thursday, July 17.—Announcement was made semi-officially today that Baron Kurt von Leisner, head of the German mission, had been appointed charge d'affaires to look after German interests in France.

The appointment is the first step by Germany in the resumption of diplomatic relations with her former opponents. Baron von Leisner formerly was a secretary of the German embassy in Washington. He has been attached to the German peace delegation since its arrival in Versailles.

SHIPS ARE TIED UP ALL
ALONG ATLANTIC COAST

NEW YORK, July 18.—The strike of seamen, firemen and oilers, which has held up ships here and caused piers to become piled high with freight, entered its second week today.

A few private owners have yielded to the strikers' demands, but at this port about 400 vessels remain idle, and at Boston, Philadelphia, New Orleans and other Atlantic and gulf ports the number of ships tied up is estimated at more than 100. Many of these are United States shipping board vessels leased to private corporations.

WOULD CLASS RAILROAD
DEFICIT AS WAR LOSS

WASHINGTON, July 18.—The railroad administration's deficit, now exceeding $400,000,000, might as well be classed as a war loss, Chairman Clark of the interstate commerce commission yesterday told the house interstate commerce committee, considering the fact that the railroad industry after the period of federal control. When the roads are returned, he said, the government should assist by lending them money at a rate not obtainable from banks.

It was obvious, he said, that the roads must be able to increase operating incomes by increasing rates, as reduction of wages was out of the question.

Without some declaration as to the rate situation, he contended that with the termination of federal control, interstate rates would automatically become what they were fixed by state commissions.

PUFFER-HAZZARD CASE
TO BE HEARD IN FALL

BOSTON, July 18.—Miss Mabel E. Puffer of Ayer, and her former colored butler and choreman, Arthur G. Hazzard, also of Ayer, were both present in the equity motion session of the superior court before Judge Wait yesterday, ready to give their versions of how Hazzard came into the possession of property which it is alleged in the pending suit really belongs to Miss Puffer.

Both sides had numerous witnesses and were prepared to offer evidence, but Judge Wait declined to hear evidence in this preliminary proceeding.

Counsel then entered into a stipulation that none of the property alleged in the bill to have been turned over to Hazzard by Miss Puffer while she was suffering from the hallucination that Hazzard was a much-sought-for Christian Science practitioner would be transferred.

According to the bill, Miss Puffer asked Hazzard if he were the practitioner and he asserted that he was. From then on he became a frequent visitor at her home in Ayer, and when he suggested marriage, she accepted him. It is alleged, under the belief that he was this Christian Science practitioner with whom she had frequent communion, but had never met. The property claimed in the bill to have been turned over to Hazzard is in excess of $5000, together with several articles of personal property and furniture.

Counsel for Hazzard stipulated that there would be no change of possession pending a hearing of the bill on its merits next fall. Pleadings are to be completed on or before July 23.

ARMS FOR DEFENSIVE

DOUGLAS, Ariz., July 18.—Bulletins have been posted in all of the towns of the state of Sonora stating that the Mexican government by special arrangement with the United States government would be permitted to bring in arms and ammunition for defensive purposes. Any resident wishing to obtain arms and ammunition might do so by making formal application to the city council and they would be issued at cost, the notice said. Americans bringing word today of the posting of the notice, said many Mexicans had expressed the intention of taking advantage of the opportunity thus offered to get cheap guns and ammunition.

EX-KAISER SERIOUSLY ILL

Shows "High Degree of Nervousness"—Suffering From
"Deep Melancholy"

BERLIN, July 18 (By the Associated Press).—The Pan-German Deutsche Zeitung, which stands close to former royal circles, takes a serious view of the illness of former Emperor William, calling it "deep melancholy." It is said that he is so depressed that his physician views his condition as critical.

He is said rarely to leave his apartment and seldom to see his closest friends. The paper says that he spends many hours in prayer and that when he does talk, he wants to converse on religious subjects. He is said to show a "high degree of nervousness."

The condition of the former emperor is such, according to the newspaper, that she may have to return to Germany for treatment of her old heart trouble.

CONFIDENT OF LANDING
BOMB PLOTTERS

PROVIDENCE, July 18.—William J. Flynn, director of the bureau of investigation of the department of justice and former chief of the United States secret service, was in Providence yesterday, consulting with Special Agent Howick of the department of justice, United States Marshal John J. Richards and others concerning plans for watching the Bolsheviks and other radical elements and to prevent future bomb outrages.

Chief Flynn said: "The department will not show its hand until conclusive evidence has been obtained against the conspirators. It will take time to get the investigators, but we are now confident of landing them."

He will go from here to Boston and other points in Massachusetts.

INCREASE IN POSTAL SAVINGS DEPOSITS

Postal savings deposits forged ahead during the war $31,000,000, according to a statement just made public by the postoffice department. On March 31, 1917, six days prior to our declaration of war, deposits in the United States postal banks footed up $125,424,656. On October 31, 1918, 11 days prior to the signing of the armistice, they had increased to $150,670,330. These figures are all the more remarkable when it is recalled that during the same period four intensive Liberty loan campaigns, and an almost continuous drive for the sale of Thrift Stamps and war savings certificates were carried on. War activities had the complete right of way and an appeal by the postmaster general for active co-operation on the part of the 200,000 postal employees throughout the country, in all financial and charitable war activities, brought enthusiastic response. Meanwhile, postal savings, simply marked time accepting only such business as came to the postoffices, unsolicited. The postal savings banks are largely patronized by wage-earners of foreign birth. These people are familiar with similar institutions conducted in their native countries and naturally turn to our postal banks to take care of their savings, thus evidencing their unbounded confidence in the United States and its promise to pay back the product of their toil and sacrifice the moment they ask for it.

Thousands of postal savings depositors joined the American army and navy, and that many of them made the supreme sacrifice is attested by the volume of death claims that are being paid to heirs of deceased soldiers and sailors on both sides of the Atlantic.

The Call'em

The New York Yankees still continue to hold on to second place in the American league race but they are growing harder every day. Cleveland, Detroit and the Browns are crowding Huggins too closely to bring any comfort to the New York boss and he can't seem to bring his team out of the slump.

Captains Hard to Take
The sport winners who still persist in offering little capsules of hope and encouragement relative to the work of the Red Sox—that desperate belief that the Boston team simply must brace and plough their way to the top need only to sincerely study the present standing. The Sox are nine full games away from the first division and 15½ games back of the flying "Kid Gleasons."

Grand Old Men
What about this moss covered adage that "they never come back"? Pick up the sports sheet any day and see what the old men of baseball are doing. Old Eddie Cicotte holds a strong contender for pennant honors to three hits and no runs. Old Gavy Cravath keeps his head up and unmercifully flays the onion while his Philly pals slump and slump. Old Slim Sallee helps to keep the old New York Giants out in front and Old Terry Turner is signed by Connie Mack to play second base.

Let's All Quit
There seems to be an epidemic among big league pitchers in suddenly deserting the ranks. The latest move in that direction is the one made by Fletcher Grover Lowdermilk, of the White Sox, who has informed Manager Kid Gleason that he has been unable to win games for his team and therefore refuses to play any more. Mays and Lowdermilk. Next gentleman!

Would Favor Hook and Eye
The "mud" ball and emery ball episodes fade into insignificance when compared to the astounding statement of Eddie Cicotte that Alan Sothoron of the Browns is winning games by pitching the "button" ball. Sothoron, who is the button? On Alan's glove and it is sharpened to a razor edge, says Knuckle Ball Eddie. All Sothoron has to do is to cut the seams of the ball with the edge of the button as he raises both hands to his face; spit on the seams and wait an instant for the stitching to swell, then pitch and watch the oblique jump and spin. Cicotte says the above is straight dope. It's the bunk. Sothoron is winning too many games, that's the reason and rival pitchers have got to knock him out in some manner other than acknowledged skill.

One-Man Teams
Ralph Works, once with the Tigers and now a newspaper writer, says that Flagstead, the new-comer to the Detroit outfield, is the real reason for the fine drive of the team this year. He credits Cobb and Veach as being the corky leathers flayers, but insists that Flagstead brought the needed new blood and fight. The sale of Lewis killed the Red Sox, he says, and Johnston has been the man to lead Cleveland in its fight.

Fading Faster Every Day
Although the New England league was set to continue the season with four clubs, rumors come from Portland that Pres. Donnelly does not hold out much hope for the life of the organization after another week. The attendance in Portland is falling off and when that summer playground fails to come through and make the turnstile click, it is time to call it a day and go home.

BELGIUM TO SEND
MISSION TO U. S.

BRUSSELS, Thursday, July 17.—The Belgian government has decided to be represented on the business mission which will go to America in September upon invitation of the chamber of commerce of the United States. Great Britain, France and Italy also will be represented.

CHAMPIONSHIP SERIES
The first game of a series of three for the city championship and a purse of $500 will be played at Spaulding park tomorrow afternoon, between the C.M.A.C. and Boston & Maine car shop teams. The game will start at 3 o'clock and a great crowd is expected. Since Jimmie Reynolds became manager of the car shop team a great record has been set up and he avers that he will not be satisfied until he pilots the team to the city championship. He has signed up a strong aggregation and feels confident of landing the title. The C.M.A.C., however, has always had one of the city's leading teams, and this year is no exception, says the management. Both clubs have been practicing all week and the followers look for a very snappy and hard-fought game.

WORLD'S GREATEST FLYING FISH
A whole swimming team. That's Norman Ross, lieutenant aviator, representing America in the inter-allied games in Paris.

America has had some remarkable swimmers in the past Olympic meets but none have been as sensational as Ross' recent performance. Single handed he won five championships for the A.E.F. which gave the tanks a safe lead.

distance, short distance, back stroke and free style, he led in every race and finished with an easy margin, defeating many allied champions including Australia's world record holder, W. Longworth.

On top of all this he made two out of three of America's points in water polo and made up the lost distance in the relay team.

Ross also holds seven world's amateur records made in the United States.—JOY GROVE.

K. OF C. VS. SACO-LOWELL
Scully, former star of the C.Y.M.L., and Mitchell, one of Holy Cross' greatest catchers, will be in the points for the K. of C. tomorrow afternoon against the Saco-Lowell on the South common. Eddie Cawley will captain and play short. Merritt, formerly of the Lowell club, and Maloney will do the battery work for the Saco-Lowell team. Willott, Souza and Mullen, heavy hitting stars, will greatly help Manager Rutledge to battle with the K. of C. team. Game will be called promptly at 3 o'clock.

AMATEUR BASEBALL
The Lowell Knights of Columbus team will play its first local game of the season tomorrow with the Saco-Lowell shop nine on the South common at 3 p. m. Attractive score cards will be distributed before the game.

A double-header is scheduled for tomorrow afternoon on the Lawrence Mfg. Co. grounds when the company league teams clash. Mechanical plays Underwear in the opener and Yarn lines up against Hose in the aftermath tilt. Yarn now leads the league by a scant margin. The standing follows:

Yarn 6 4
Mechanical 5 3
Underwear 5 3
Hose 4 6

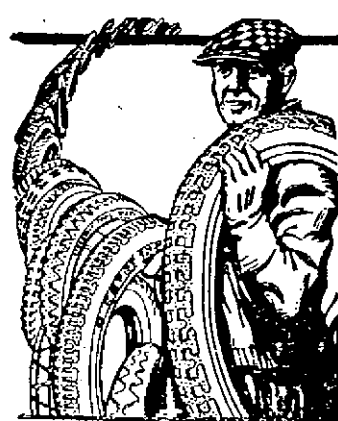

The Bellevues want a game for tomorrow with any strong local club. They also have open dates in August and would like to hear from the C.Y.M.L., St. Peter's and Matthews. The manager may be seen at the club rooms any evening after 8.30 o'clock.

The Young Maples challenge any 11-year-old team in the city for a game to be played tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock on the Lakeview avenue grounds.

The Matthews and St. Peter's A.A. will cross bats on the North common tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock and one of the best amateur games of the season should result. The Matthews have been greatly strengthened during the past week by the acquisition of several new players and the winner of this contest will have to be reckoned with before the city championship is decided.

The Matthews have an open date on July 26 and would like to hear from some of the city's fast teams.

Watertown Arsenal A.A. would like to arrange games with the C.M.A.C. or K. of C. Write Mr. William W. Volk, 30 Hemenway street, Boston, Mass. Tel. Back Bay 6170 between 5.30 and 7.30.

BOOST TALKING MACHINES

There are two particular times of the year when talking machines are in extraordinary demand and big sales result. One period is a month before Christmas and the other is the summer season.

Why not take advantage of the summer season now and boost the sale of talking machines. Every canoe owner and every camper represents a sales possibility where a medium priced victrola, Edison, Columbia, Sonora, Brunswick or other good machine can be placed.

In a case of this kind the power of suggestion and possibility for pleasure afforded by a talking machine, as carried out by means of a strong, pulling ad, are the things that help business. Lowell has at least ten establishments where talking machines are sold on easy terms or at moderate prices for cash. The summer need not be a dull time to sell talking machines only unless the sellers themselves make it dull.

The first move should be to state your case by means of an ad in

HOUSING CONDITIONS

The legislature is to adopt measures for improving housing conditions in the city of Boston. That is right and proper. Conditions in Boston in all probability call for a radical remedy. But what of other cities of the commonwealth? So far as can be learned, they will have to shift for themselves. The officials in each city and town outside of Boston will have to see to it that the housing conditions are not allowed to become so bad as to work serious detriment to the community or injury to any particular family. In the efforts of poor families to meet the high cost of living and the difficulties of the housing situation, many may be subjected to hardships that should not be allowed to exist in any American community. Vigilance on the part of municipal officials, religious and social service workers will be necessary to prevent such suffering and to bring relief to those who need it before it is too late.

INFANT MORTALITY

The New York milk committee, which has done so much in that city to save the lives of children under one year old, has issued a very instructive statistical report on the infant mortality in 187 American cities. The infant death rate is the number of deaths of children under one year old in every thousand living births reported in any one year. The city of Lowell has a rate of infant mortality higher than it should be, although much lower than that of many other industrial cities as shown in this report.

With a population set down as 106,294, Lowell in 1918 had 2,473 deaths, 535 of which were of children under one year old, making the rate of infant mortality 150.1. The rate of infant mortality for Fall River is 161.3, New Bedford 181.4, Lynn 76.8, Springfield 100, Lawrence 143.2, Manchester, N. H., 135.0, Haverhill 73, Salem 98, Nashua 122.2, New York city 91.7, Chicago 104.3, Philadelphia 126, Boston 114.0, Buffalo 121.5, San Francisco 57.2, Washington, D. C., 110.9. The cities having the highest rate of infant mortality are: Troy, N. Y., 267.3, Youngstown, O., 183.5, San Antonio, Tex., 210, Reading, Pa., 202.9.

This report states that a safe milk supply and first aid to the infants will lower the infant mortality wherever it is abnormal. "Clean milk pasteurized, graded and labeled to show what it is, is the only safe milk. Milk is a substitute for other food—no other food is a substitute for milk." It explains also that first aid for infants means providing medical and nursing care promptly whenever it is required and that medical and nursing care with proper instruction for the expectant mother is also an important factor in saving the babies. It is also stated that in smothered properly instructed and respected, there is a potentiality of health and well being for future generations beyond the dream of the most enthusiastic sanitarian. In view of these facts, it will be apparent even to casual observers that the Lowell Guild is an agency that should be liberally supported and encouraged in its work. It should have stations close to the congested districts from which to dispense pasteurized milk for the babies kept in homes where there is no refrigerator to keep milk from spoiling. As to the instruction of mothers, the district nurses are doing good work and can do a great deal more if they get the necessary support.

We are now in the hot season, which is likely to be followed by the usual crop of deaths of infants under one year old. The number of deaths can be lessened and the lives of many waifs saved by following the directions offered by the New York milk committee or by following the instructions given by the district nurses sent out by the Lowell Guild and the Metropolitan Life Insurance company.

CORK A LIVE CITY

The Sun has received from the Chamber of Commerce of the city of Cork, Ireland, a very respectable volume of 270 pages treating of the work, past, present and prospective of that organization in promoting the industries and commerce of the city of Cork and the general prosperity of Ireland.

The volume is decidedly attractive, is well written, well printed, well illustrated and well edited by Mr. M. A. Conkley, principal of the Cork school of commerce. The book is in every respect creditable to the organization that issued it and will compare favorably with similar trade publications sent out by commercial bodies either here or elsewhere.

This book deals with the past history and present prospects of the city of Cork, its commerce and its possibilities for extensive trade. People who have been reading the propaganda issued from Belfast and London have been led to believe that Belfast is the only city of importance in Ireland. For this reason it is refreshing to find a body of keen business men banded together in the city of Cork, to promote the industry and commerce, not only of that port but of the whole of Ireland.

The Cork Chamber of Commerce is a non-political body that devotes its attention mainly to the industrial problems of the city and the nation. The need of home rule for Ireland is shown in the historic narrative telling how England legislated out of existence the woolen trade of Ireland because it interfered with that of England. At the present time one of the chief industries of Ireland is the raising and export of cattle. The Cork Chamber of Commerce complains that cattle are exported alive, thereby depriving the country of the industries which might be fed from local slaughter houses, such for example, as the manufacture of leather that might in turn lead to the establishment of shoe factories. The able introduction to the work written by Sir Bertram Windle, president of University college, Cork, is highly illuminating in reference to the disadvantages of the live meat trade.

It appears from this volume that the commission appointed some years ago to probe the financial relations of England and Ireland, after a full investigation reported to parliament that while the actual state tax revenue was about one-eighth that of Great Britain, the relative taxable capacity of Ireland was not estimated by any of the members at more than one-twelfth, and by some of them much less, even long ago laid aside. The fact that commission was made up of men of all shades of political opinion. This injustice has not been with other European powers, has removed, but on the contrary, from removed forever our provincialism; all accounts, it has been increased, and made this nation a world so that there is ample ground for power interested in world events, the charge of unfair treatment at world commerce, world progress, the hands of England.

It is also shown in this volume that the railroads of Ireland are a disgrace, it seems that made up of independent systems, whose service is so defective and at the same time so expensive as to be a serious handicap to business. It is stated that the cost of moving Irish produce to the seaboard for export or from one part of the country to another is also the cost of moving from the ports to the interior, grain, flour, coal and other necessities, is on the whole so high as to constitute a serious impediment to the prosperity of the country.

The total exports of Ireland in 1914 amounted to $386,035,260 and the imports to $308,205,840. A large proportion of all exports and imports pass through the port of the city of Cork. This volume shows that Cork is a live, busy, thriving and enterprising city which under local self-government would become a part of great commercial importance. Its college, its school of commerce, its technical and other schools offer splendid educational opportunities to the youth of the land, and nothing is wanting to ensure prosperity for all Ireland but the fostering care of a home government, free to develop the resources of the nation and to encourage industrial enterprises which would offer profitable employment for all the people. With such encouragement many of the American friends of Ireland would gladly render financial assistance.

JOHNSON'S CAMPAIGN

Hiram W. Johnson, United States senator from California, is making a tour of the eastern states in a campaign against the League of Nations, the chief aim of which is to boost his own candidacy for the presidency.

Senator Johnson, it will be remembered, was one of the men prominently associated with Col. Roosevelt in the progressive party and he is now posing as the very personification of the Roosevelt brand of Americanism. The San Francisco Chronicle, the chief organ behind Johnson's boom for the presidency, proclaims to the world that the "mantle of an illustrious predecessor has descended upon him and he prophesies."

Doubtless Mr. Johnson believes all that the Chronicle says in this respect and he is doing his utmost to convince the people of this country that it is really true and that he is in reality another Roosevelt. Even on the stump, he is aping the methods and manners of the late lamented ex-president and pitifully floundering around in the late colonel's shoes.

The Chronicle sheds some light upon the motives behind Johnson's candidacy. It says that for 25 years the country has not had a president hailing from any state west of the Mississippi and the western states believe it is their right to put forward a man as candidate that will command the support not only of the west but a sufficient number of eastern delegates to secure his nomination. The aim now is to capitalize the political following of the late Col. Roosevelt and lead it into the republican convention in favor of Senator Johnson.

We do not believe this can be done. We do not believe the admirers of the late colonel will accept the Chronicle's estimate of Mr. Johnson nor that they can be convinced that he is in any respect the equal or even a worthy disciple of Roosevelt so far as real Americanism is concerned.

Johnson is a factionist and he is particularly opposed to the Japanese making further inroads on the western states. In this he may be right so far as anybody at present can judge; but he is so aggressive on this policy that were he president of the United States and showed the same spirit towards Japan, he would undoubtedly plunge the nation into war with that empire unless we have a League of Nations to prevent war.

But Senator Johnson is fighting hard against the League of Nations. It is not unfair to inquire whether the senator, in pursuing this policy, is influenced by his hatred of Japan. This is one view of his opposition to the League of Nations and a possible explanation. Another is, that he wishes the United States to keep aloof from world affairs and return to her old time isolation, which has been long ago laid aside. The fact that we control the Philippine islands and that we are in alliance with other European powers, has removed, but on the contrary, from removed forever our provincialism; all accounts, it has been increased, and made this nation a world so that there is ample ground for power interested in world events, the charge of unfair treatment at world commerce, world progress, the hands of England.

So far as republican candidates that the railroads of Ireland are a disgrace, it seems that made up of independent systems, whose service is so defective and at the same time so expensive as to be a serious handicap to business. It is stated that the cost of moving Irish produce to the seaboard for export or from one part of the country to another is also the cost of moving from the ports to the interior, grain, flour, coal and other necessities, is on the whole so high as to constitute a serious impediment to the prosperity of the country.

SEEN AND HEARD

Haircuts 50 cents—shave 20 cents. "Lay on, Macduff, and damn's be him that first cries: 'Hold, enough!'"

And we are on the road to 15 cent milk. Well, with no beer to buy that ought to be easy.

"It is better to die, since death comes surely, in the full tide of an honored name, than to live to the end of time, obscurely, a handful of dust in a shroud of shame."

When looking for 100 per cent pure nerve just go to the legislature and lamp the guys who after annexing a 50 per cent salary raise for themselves over the governor's veto are now playing recess jobs at $1000 per member. But don't forget that there's a cure for this greasy disease and the place to administer it is at the polls.

Prepared for the Worst

Just as two Irishmen were in the middle of a large field one of them turned and saw an angry bull making for them.

With a yell of warning he bolted, and just managed to clear the hedge. His companion, less nimble, ran wildly round the hedge to find another opening.

Twice he went round without escaping. Then, as he passed his anxious friend for the third time he shouted: "Tell my missus my insurance policy is in the bottom drawer. This is my last time around."—St. Louis Globe Democrat.

When Getting a Lift

Getting "picked up" or a "lift" downtown in gas gondolas by kind hearted motorists is part of the daily program now for the hoofers. The big problem with the hooper is how to act and what to say during the ride. So we offer herewith the proper "lift etiquette."

When trying to open the door the wrong way, mumble your thanks and something about the poor car service, and it being "mighty fine" to be offered this rare opportunity of getting downtown. When asked how far you are going, spar for time to see how far he is going, and if he isn't going all the way down, wherever he stops, tell him, "that'll be fine, that's just where I got off." Then give your views on the weather for the day. After a few moments' silence, ask the make of the car. If an older model, say you wouldn't have guessed it. If a new one, say you wouldn't have guessed it. Then remark how quiet and smooth the engine and car runs. When nearing the stop, get ready to get off a block ahead. Be all gratitude, as though you want to jump off so he won't have to go to all the trouble of stopping the car. Fumble with the door again and step out awkwardly, bumping your hat against the top, and again get all bawled up with your thanks.

Literary Cocktails

This valuable suggestion was in a recent number of a popular periodical: "The best substitute for a saloon is a bookcase. Whether you find it in a public library, in a bookshop or in your own home, the bookcase can match every thrill that the saloon ever gave, and add some of its own. It is necessary, you can put a footrail along the bottom shelf and read standing up."

This last hint is invaluable. By all means, have your bookcase done over to suit the new condition, with a brass rail along the lower front and a substantial, projecting top that you can lean on with comfort while enjoying your substitute imbibulations. Those who want a regular and thorough literary jag will of course need an easy chair.

There may be an eye to business in this suggestion, for the firm that publishes the periodical also is engaged in the book publishing business on an extensive scale. However, the idea is worth whatever it is worth, even if it is bare-faced advertising. If the bookcase becomes popular as the best saloon substitute and we really take to satisfying our craving for beverages with books, perhaps the public libraries should revise their system of cataloguing for the greater convenience of thirsty patrons. In going to the bookcase on this impulse it may be assumed that you want a definite substitute for something definite. In arranging for the new Bartenders' Guide, for instance, we might start off something like this:

Mellow Old Cocktail—Epictetus.
Dry Martini—H. L. Mencken.
Whisky Sour—Theodore Dreiser.
Sherry Cobbler—Booth Tarkington.
Absinthe Frappe—Herr Nietzsche.
Tom and Jerry—W. L. Jacobs.
Port Wine—Joseph Conrad.
Pink Lemonade—R. W. Chambers.
Malted Milk—Harold Bell Wright.
You can make up a card index to suit your own tastes and according to your individual necessities. In any event, there seems to be no reason why any family, with a little painstaking care, should be without its own five-foot shelf or substitute intoxicants suitable for any emergency.—F. H. Young, in Providence Journal.

Non-Skid Wedding Ring

"Well, well," said Uncle Ichabod, "I've been reading lately how divorce and alimony have been growing much and greatly. Looks like a girl's affections and a feller's keen desires. Wear out along the road of life about like rubber tires. They start out full of airy hope, but at some early juncture, they're sure to get a blow-out or some rocky little puncture."

One minute and they purr along as pleasant as a cat. Next minute and they bump the bumps and find they're runnin' flat! Now some folks say that in an age of bumps and planes and wireless, the family car should be constructed practically tireless. By home say I've noticed that no matter what the road, the rubber tires don't get fatted much that keep the right side of the road. And what most couples really needs as much as anything is some non-skid-proof affections and a non-skid wedding ring! —EDMUND VANCE COOKE.

LOWELL STATE GUARD AT CAMP BACON

The Lowell members of the State Guard who are doing their annual tour of duty at Camp Bacon, Boylston, are in the best of health and enjoying every minute of their experience, according to a number of Lowell people who visited the camp yesterday to witness the ceremonies attendant upon Governor's day.

Among the Lowell people present were Mayor and Mrs. Perry D. Thompson and their daughter, Cynthia. There are about 150 Lowell men in the camp and their homes for the week are white tents pitched in orderly precision on company streets. Despite the fact that many of the members of the guard are of advanced age, they do their share of drilling and other camp duties without a whimper. The cook for Co. G is Dudley L. Page and he is on the job at 4 o'clock every morning. Entertainment for the soldiers consists of twilight baseball games, boxing matches, moving pictures and band concerts. The camp will end tomorrow. The officers of the Lowell companies are: B. Capt. Albert Bergeron, First Lieut. Horace Deslites and Second Lieut. Alphonse Vallerand; C. Capt. John Scott, First Lieut. Loring Kew and Second Lieut. Daley; G. Capt. Royal P. White, First Lieut. Daley and Acting Second Lieut. Stephens.

CAR COMPANY ORDERED OFF TOLEDO STREETS

TOLEDO, O., July 18.—Members of the city council yesterday refused to compromise with the Toledo Railways and Light company, and insisted that it take its street cars and tracks off the streets at the end of this month.

The order was issued when the company raised the fare from 5 cents, 1 cent for a transfer, to 6 cents and 2 cents for a transfer.

A proposal to replace car service by a $2,000,000 automobile bus service was abandoned when the city was unable to grant an immediate franchise to protect investors. Unless there is a compromise or some substitute for car service found, Toledo will walk after July 30.

LAWFUL TO FIX VALUE FOR WAGES

BOSTON, July 18.—Atty. Gen. CHIEF TAHAN TALKS TO LOWELL BOYS

This is the first in a series of "Indian stories" for boys by Chief Tahan of the Kiowa, printed exclusively in The Sun. In this story the big chief tells boys how to make fire by friction with "mother-piece" and "fire-stick."

BY CHIEF TAHAN

Of the Kiowa Indian Tribe.

Gaitake—good! Mighty glad you boys came, for the chief was just thinking about you. Now don't be a bit afraid to walk on my old buffalo robe, sit right down on it. No, I haven't forgotten what you were coming for, and I've got my old fire-making things all ready.

Of course if you were Boy Scouts—and I hope you will be some day—you would know all about how to make fire by friction, for that is one of the things they do. Somebody I presume who had been among the Indians learned from them how to do it, and then taught it to the Boy Scouts.

Well, here is my old hearth piece with holes burned in it. A long time ago the Indians called this the "mother-piece," or "good mother." Next, here is my fire stick, or drill. You can see that it is not smooth, but that it has several corners on it. The old-time Indians used to call this stick "the kind-father-one." Now then I put the string of the fire-bow once around the stick—you see that all the time the string is tied to each end of the bow, and now I put this little stone with a place in it to fit over the top of the drill, with a little grease in it so that it will not take fire at that end when I begin to work the bow.

Now I take the little stone in my left hand on top of the drill, take the end of the bow in my right hand. But first I put this powdered cedar bark under the notch of the "mother-piece."

—now then, I put the end of the drill on the notch, and all is ready to begin. See, I push the bow from me, draw it back, keep on doing that, faster and faster—now watch. See the smoke? Wait a little. There now, there is a spark on the powdered bark under the notch, and the end of the drill. Now—wait—moment till I blow it—with my breath. There! we have a blaze. Now I'll put some of this dry grass and twigs on it, and pretty soon we'll have a good fire.

The long-ago-time Indians believed that fire is a thing that has life like an animal—that it is a kind of an animal thing, for it eats almost anything you give it. They believe that it has been inside the wood ever since the Thunderbird up in the sky batted his eyes so fast that much fire (lightning) came out of them and struck a tree. When the old-time Indian made his fire by friction he sang his fire song or prayer, to his God, that the "mystery animal" might be born of the "father-mother wood sticks." No matter how much fire there was in the village he always made a new fire by friction for his religious ceremonies.

It used to be a law that when a messenger approached a camp at night, he had to carry a torch to show that he was a friend. For they said that a friend was not afraid to be seen in the fire-shine and that a good man would always carry his light with him.

What is a Call for "Anyone"?

The distinction between a person-to-person call and a station-to-station call is indicated by their names. In the former, you ask the toll operator to call some designated Person and get him on the line; in the latter, you simply ask the toll operator to connect you with his telephone.

The latter form of toll call is simpler and quicker to handle; therefore, it costs only about three-fourths as much as the person-to-person call. It can be employed to advantage if it is reasonably certain that the person wanted will be at the other end of the line, or, in the event of his absence, if the business to be discussed with him can be transacted with anyone else there.

Examples of station-to-station method of giving a toll call:

"Bangor 3265-W—"Anyone."

"23 Green Street, Manchester, N. H.—Anyone."

"Residence of Joseph Brown, Burlington, Vt.—Anyone."

"John Smith's telephone, Pittsfield, Mass.—Anyone."

"Robinson Machine Co., Springfield, Mass.—Anyone."

Quicker service will be obtained if you call the telephone number desired. If you do not know the number, the toll operator will get it for you.

WHO CAN AFFORD TO "KEEP A MAID"

BY BIDDY BTE

When can an American family afford to keep a maid?

In these days of universal economy, or need for economy—that is a pertinent question which every business-like housewife must ask herself before she decides that she "must have help with the work."

As a business proposition keeping a maid is a luxury for the very few—an extravagance for all families who could not freely and frankly be classed as "rich."

Modern economists have figured the actual money cost of keeping a maid thus:
Wages—at $5 to $7 per week, for a month—$20-$28
Room—at $3 per week for a month—$12.00
Board—at $1 per week for a month—$4.00
Depreciation (waste, breakage, etc.) per month—$3.50

At this estimate the cost of maintaining a maid for a single year amounts to $443.50. Yet many families with an income of $1000 a year think they can afford that their social position demands they "keep a maid."

In addition to the bare living costs estimated above in gifts and other costs involved in gifts and vacations to the maid, to care and loss of time during her possible illness, and to the increased cost traceable to the more extravagant standards of living which accompany "keeping a maid." Obviously, for a family not rich, "keeping a maid" is rank extravagance.

There are certain times, and emergencies in family life when keeping a maid is actually justified, such as times of prolonged illness of one or more members of the family, when the housewife must act as a nurse in addition to other duties. Also, when there are very young babies in the family requiring the mother's strength and care, a maid's help is justified, and should be provided by economies in other directions. It is only when there are excessive demands on the housewife's physical strength that a maid is really needed in families of average income.

Economists roughly estimate that maids are extravagant in all families with incomes of less than $2000 a year.

The up-keep and care of the home and children is as much the business of the wife and mother as the actual earning of the income is the business of the husband and father. For an average woman in normal health the care of a house, and the work necessary to keep herself, husband, and from two to three children in health and comfort, is not unreasonable.

The just woman will admit that a woman has no more real claim to extra hours of rest and leisure than her husband. Even without the help of a maid most housewives can so arrange their work as to afford one hour's rest or recreation each day—and that is more than is allowed the average business man or woman. It is true that housework cannot be limited to a strict eight or ten hour day, but it can be so arranged as to consume no more than that during the whole day, and so as to leave the evenings free for rest and companionship with the wage earner.

If, by agreement between husband and wife, it is decided that the wife is more useful, economically, working outside her home than in it, the employment of a maid to assume the domestic duties usually allotted to the wife, is justified. These, however, are rare situations.

If the employment of a maid is for the sole purpose of giving the housewife more leisure and pleasure, or for "raising the social standard of the family" it is both absurd, and an economic wrong or act of selfishness.

OUT OF LUCK

Many people in this world go about with the idea that they are always "out of luck." They think that others can get things that they can't. If others are sick, and recover, these "lucky" persons think they can't be helped even if they try the same remedies that helped their friends. That doesn't sound reasonable, does it?

We can give you the proofs that thousands of people have been helped by GOLDINE. They were not all lucky people, some had suffered with disease for as long as forty years. That would put them out of the lucky class. But GOLDINE helped them get rid of their diseases. If you have any trouble, why not see if you can't get the same results all these others obtained. There is no real reason why you shouldn't be there? Your trouble isn't as bad as the troubles of many who took GOLDINE and found relief. It's worth trying out.

Remember, GOLDINE is sold in Lowell by Carter & Sherburne, P. H. Butler & Co., W. P. Calise, Jr., Fred Howard, Wm. R. Kiernan, Frank E. McNabb, Wm. H. Noonan, R. F. Webster, Frye & Crawford Co. It is also sold by Roland G. Wright in Billerica, John H. Westwood in Chelmsford, Conant & Co. in Littleton, Edward A. Woodside in Wilmington, and dealers in Ayer, Westford, Dracut, Tewksbury and other towns. If your dealer does not carry GOLDINE in stock, have him secure it through the Lawrence Drug Co.—Adv.

REAL ESTATE PURCHASE

George R. Dana Buys Property in East Merrimack, Howe and Davidson Streets

George R. Dana, whose garage property at Nos. 2 to 24 East Merrimack street was recently seized by the city as a part of the Memorial building site, has purchased the property Nos. 85 to 95 East Merrimack street which property has a street frontage of 84 feet and is slightly over 100 feet deep. In the rear of this property and immediately adjoining, Mr. Dana has also purchased another lot of land having a frontage of 25 feet on Howe street and about 65 feet deep and 145 feet on Davidson street with an average depth of upwards of 75 feet, the whole of the three street frontages comprising one lot of some twenty two thousand square feet, about one half of which is covered with buildings known as the bowling alleys on East Merrimack street and the tool house of the Street Railway company on Howe street, while the other half is vacant land.

Mr. Dana's plans are in a contemplative state thus far but with the three street frontages and the particular shape of the lot a very convenient structure may be erected.

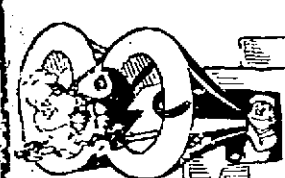

This property comprises all of what was once the holdings of the Lowell Horse Railroad company and was purchased by that company of various individuals in the years 1871-1879 and 1882 and on which were erected the car barn and stables which buildings,

Some years since the East Merrimack street section of the property consisting of some 9500 square feet of land with buildings thereon was sold by the street railway company, and this property has changed hands several times in the past few years. The Howe and Davidson street properties, comprising something like 12,500 square feet, has been handed down to the successors of the original Lowell Horse Railroad company and now Mr. Dana purchases some of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway company.

The East Merrimack street frontage of Mr. Dana's purchase is directly opposite the Soldiers' Memorial building site and its location is considered admirable for automobile sales and service and for garage purposes.

Mr. Dana will dispose of the buildings now on the land and his entire construction will be new and first class.

DECLARES MUNICIPAL WANT TO GET RID OF OWNERSHIP DEAD ISSUE 3600 UNDESIRABLES

WASHINGTON, July 11.—Because public utilities have outgrown municipal boundaries, municipal ownership of them practically is a dead issue, the federal electric railways commission was told today by William J. Clark, one of the pioneer street railway builders of the country. Mr. Clark said the interurban idea was growing rapidly and that jealousy between towns and rural communities would not permit a big municipality to own an electric railway serving them all.

The value of courtesy in improving relations between the public and street railway lines was emphasized by Mr. Clark, who said little acts of discourtesy by company employees caused passengers to have personal grievances against the company.

WASHINGTON, July 17.—Lack of ship space and the high cost of transportation may necessitate assignment of a special steamer to deport 3600 undesirable aliens, held in this country, Anthony Caminetti, commissioner general of immigration, testified today before the house immigration committee.

"State institutions which are temporarily caring for these people are clamoring to be rid of them," Mr. Caminetti said, "but I do not want to send them to Europe individually or in small groups when the cost per man would reach about $500, as compared with $200 or $300 in normal times."

"It is my idea that a government transport could leave within the next month or six weeks."

JUST GOOD COOKIES

BY BIDDY BYE

Summer time, when the little folks are at home, and always running indoors to ask mother for "something to eat" is cookie season indeed!

Cookies, too, fit excellently into the picnic basket, or play partners to lemonade on the shady porch, or set off properly the icecream at the dinner table. Cookies in summer are indispensable—and here are some fine cookie recipes.

Chocolate Cookies

Cream together ½ cupful of butter and 1 cupful of sugar, add two eggs, and beat the mixture thoroughly. Melt 2 ounces of bitter chocolate over hot water and mix the chocolate with the egg mixture. Stir in ½ cupful of flour and ½ cupful of chopped walnut or pecan meats. Flavor with 1 teaspoonful of vanilla, drop by spoonfuls on a greased pan or baking sheet, and bake in a moderate oven.

Peanut Drop Cookies

Cream together 2 tablespoonfuls of butter and ½ cupful sugar. Stir in 1 egg. Sift and mix together ½ cupful flour, 1 teaspoonful of baking powder, and ¼ teaspoonful salt. Mix with the butter and sugar, add 2 tablespoonfuls rich milk or cream, ½ cupful of chopped peanuts. Put in 1 teaspoonful of lemon juice, and mix all well. Drop by spoonfuls on an ungreased baking sheet or pan one inch apart. Bake fifteen minutes in moderate oven.

Oatmeal Cookies

Beat 1 egg, and add to it gradually ½ cupful of sugar, 1 tablespoonful of melted butter, and 1 cupful of dry rolled oats. Add ½ teaspoonful of salt, ¼ teaspoonful of vanilla, and ½ cupful of raisins. Drop by spoonfuls on greased tins and bake in moderate oven until a delicate brown.

Coconut Cakes

Beat the whites of two eggs to a stiff froth. Add very slowly, a half-teaspoonful at a time, ¼ cupful of confectioners' sugar. Then fold in gradually ½ cupful of granulated sugar, a small pinch of rice flour, mixed through 1 cupful of fresh shredded coconut. Mix and drop the mixture by spoonfuls on a cake tin lined with light brown paper—not waxed or greased—and bake in a very slow oven until lightly browned.

Lift Off Corns!

Doesn't hurt! Lift touchy corns and calluses right off with fingers

Apply a few drops of "Freezone" upon that old, bothersome corn. Instantly that corn stops hurting. Then shortly you lift it right off, root and all, without pain or soreness.

Hard corns, soft corns, corns between the toes, and the hard skin calluses on bottom of feet lift right off—no humbug!

Tiny bottles of "Freezone" cost but a few cents at drug stores

Danger Lurks In Summer Foods For Babies

EVERY mother knows the evil effects of summer heat on cow's milk. This danger is equally great to all foods unless carefully kept in a cool place away from insects.

Bad food loses its nourishing value. It causes constipation and diarrhea. These are at best always prevalent in the summer time. They depress the mind and weaken the body, and may cause more serious illness.

The first precaution is to see that the stools are regular and normal. In the case of babies and children, if less than twice a day you may suspect constipation; if more than three times a day, diarrhea. A remedy is then needed that will regulate and tone the bowels, and you will find none safer and better than Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It is a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin that millions of mothers constantly have in the house for just such purposes.

A bottle of Syrup Pepsin can be bought at any drug store for 50c and $1, the latter the family size. A free trial bottle can be had by sending your address to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 480 Washington St., Monticello, Ill.

his testimony under interrogation by Attorney Stevenson. "You heard what General Weaver said. Mr. Delavigne made an important departure from that, didn't he, in writing your advertisement?" "I am not a competent judge," answered the witness. "Do you know how long it takes to mount a gun, Mr. Ford?" asked Mr. Stevenson. "No."

Told to Get the Facts "I employed Theodore Delavigne and told him to get the facts and to stick to the facts. If he omitted things I am responsible." "Then you want this jury and the world to understand that you published a mis-statement broadcast and didn't know what was in it; whether true or false?" "I told him to get the facts."

"Are you charging Mr. Delavigne with dishonesty?" "No."

"You heard what was said about a mobile force being necessary to protect coast defenses from attack in the rear?" "Yes."

"What do you understand by a 'mobile army'?" "An army mobilized," said the manufacturer.

"It is an army large or small, which can move quickly," explained Mr. Stevenson.

"Ford an Anarchist"

"I don't know much about militarism," added the witness.

The Tribune attorney next came for the first time, directly to the heart of the suit with reference to the Tribune editorial of June 23, 1918, which was headed: "Ford is an Anarchist."

"What is a headline?" asked Mr. Stevenson.

"It shows what is in the body of an article under it."

Mr. Ford yesterday testified that an anarchist is a bomb thrower or one who overturns government. Mr. Stevenson then read the text of the editorial.

"Nothing there about bomb throwing, is there?"

"No, but the headline . . ."

"But you said that a headline shows what is in the body of the article, Mr. Ford."

This precipitated an argument in the course of which Attorney Murphy contended that it was the contention of the plaintiff that the headline was libelous standing by itself for the very reason that the text of the article related nothing anarchistic of Mr. Ford.

"It seems to me, Your Honor," said Mr. Stevenson, "that we have a right to know what the plaintiff himself thinks—just how he thinks he has been injured."

"I hardly ever read anything but the headlines," put in Mr. Ford. Judge Tucker took up a law book and Mr. Stevenson went on:

"You will hardly deny the charge that you are an ignorant idealist, Mr. Ford? You said so twice yesterday."

Brutal to Vice Man

"Well, Mr. Stevenson, you can't get me to say black is white," smiled the witness.

"Why, Mr. Ford, haven't I been fair with you?"

"Yes."

Mr. Lucking protested: "This is brutal to a blue man; a modest man, who likes to appear in public, who does not wish to be here. I submit that it is brutal."

"You don't think that Mr. Ford, do you?" asked Mr. Stevenson.

"I am not brutal, am I?" Ford smiled.

"He is talking through his hat, isn't he?" continued the Tribune lawyer.

Witness smiled again, and Judge Tucker reminded Lucking that Ford could expect no different treatment than any other witness.

But he has had different treatment so far as I am concerned," said Attorney Stevenson. "I never in my life treated a witness with so much consideration."

Ford finally stated that the record would show what he said about being "an ignorant idealist." Attorney Stevenson then called his attention to his previous testimony in which he admitted ignorance of most things about the army and navy.

Declining to make any formal statement, Mr. Vahey nevertheless indicated that conditions were somewhat strained by saying that a detailed statement would be issued if the deadlock continued and it was found necessary for the union to break off negotiations with the company. Former Congressman Samuel I. Powers, one of the trustees said he knew of no developments in the controversy that would warrant any further break between the union and the trustees.

Would Accept 40 Cents

Following the joint conferences, the union leaders and the trustees went in to separate sessions, preparatory to meeting later in the day for further discussion.

Although the demands of the union are for a wage of 73½ cents an hour, union leaders said that 60 cents an hour probably would be acceptable to the men in view of the financial difficulties of the road.

Governor Coolidge conferred with representatives of both sides for the purpose of assisting in selecting a board of arbitration. James H. Vahey, counsel for the carmen and W. H. Barnum, general counsel for the railway were accepted yesterday as members of this board and the governor was expected today to name the third member.

Scores of New Bus Lines

While traffic on all the company's lines remained suspended, commuters many of whom were forced to walk to work yesterday found transportation facilities greatly improved today by better steam train service and the establishment of scores of new "bus" lines about the city.

Nearly 100 extra trains between outlying points and the central terminals besides added coaches on the regular trains of the Boston & Albany, Boston & Maine and N.Y. & H. railroads eliminated many of the delays and inconveniences suffered yesterday. It was estimated that these railroads handled double the amount of their normal traffic.

Industrial plants and mercantile houses, handicapped yesterday by tardy or absent workers, were running under normal conditions today. Many of them furnished transportation to and from the railroad stations and suburban centers for their employees.

Shoppers and residents were accommodated by scheduled service on "bus" lines established through the use of pleasure cars, auto trucks and horse drawn vehicles. Excepting the rush hours charges on these lines did not exceed the elevated fare of 10 cents. Commuters north of the city were served by cars of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Co., traversing surface tracks formerly used only in the early morning hours. Frequent communication with many nearby towns, not reached by steam or electric lines was maintained by "bus" lines instituted by town officials or civic organizations.

Payment of Deficit Held Up

To the troubles of operation of the Boston Elevated Co. were added today problems of finance when payment by the state of $3,350,151 to make up the deficit of the road for the last year was held up. The stoppage was due to a bill in equity filed by the city of Boston to restrain the state treasurer from making payment.

Explaining the bill, Alexander Whiteside, corporation counsel for the city, said that the trustees of the road had charged off last year some $2,000,000 for depreciation, and more than that amount for maintenance and repairs, and he questioned whether such a heavy charge was legal. By legislative act, the state is obliged to pay the Elevated company the amount of its deficit annually, the trustees settling the amount, and cities and towns in which the road operates being assessed proportionately.

Governor Coolidge said this afternoon that he did not expect any further conferences would be held at his office. He added that almost every conceivable plan to bring about a settlement of the controversy has been considered at the conferences held to date.

LAWYERS CLASH IN FORD SUIT

Much Time Lost by Objections of Counsel—Ford Again on Stand

Questioned Relative to Article Headed "Ford Is an Anarchist"

MOUNT CLEMENS, Mich., July 15.—A statement that one third of the record of the testimony of Henry Ford in the latter's libel suit against the Chicago Tribune had been taken up by the objections of counsel for Ford and the resultant arguments were made to Judge Tucker at the opening of court today. Alfred Lucking, counsel for Mr. Ford, remarked that the same could be said of Tribune counsel.

Defense System Adequate

Copies of the report of testimony of General Weaver on coast defense before the military affairs committee of congress in 1916, were introduced, to refute the statement made in Ford's anti-preparedness advertisements quoting General Weaver as saying that the coast defense system was adequate.

General Weaver said that the coast guns were models of 1890 and would be unable to return the fire of modern navy guns, according to the Tribune's assertions. Ford had a respite from the stand meanwhile, but finally resumed.

TO RETAIN THEIR RANKS

Pres. Wilson Asks Permanent

Ranks For Pershing, March, Sims and Benson

WASHINGTON, July 15.—Permanent ranks of general in the regular army for General Pershing and General March, chief of staff, and permanent ranks of Admiral in the navy for Rear Admiral Sims and Admiral Benson, chief of operations, were asked of congress today by President Wilson.

The president's message follows: "I take the liberty of calling your attention to a matter which I am sure is at the heart of the whole country, and which I have had very much in mind throughout all these months when we were trying to arrange a peace that would be worthy of the spirit and achievements of the men who won the victory in the field and on the sea.

"After mature reflection, I earnestly recommend that you give the permanent rank of general to John J. Pershing and Peyton C. March, expressing the law in such a way as to give precedence to General Pershing; and that you give the permanent rank of admiral to William S. Benson and William S. Sims.

"I take it for granted that I am only anticipating your own thought in proposing these honors for the men upon whom the principal responsibilities devolved for achieving the great results which our incomparable navy and army accomplished."

BADLY INJURED WHEN BANK CAVED IN

Patrick Teague, aged 31 years and residing at 106 School street, this city, was severely injured at about 11 o'clock this morning, when a sand-bank caved in on him near the plant of the Silsbee mills in North Chelmsford. Mr. Teague, with other men, was employed on removing sand when the accident occurred. The ambulance was summoned and he was taken to St. John's hospital, where it was found that he was suffering from severe contusions of the back, arms and legs. It is also feared that he received internal injuries.

Car Service In and Around Boston Still Tied Up—Failure To Agree on Arbitrator

May Break Off Negotiations—Carmen Would Yield and Accept 60c an Hour

BOSTON, July 18.—With the electric lines of this city, street, elevated and subway, still stopped today by the strike of carmen, negotiations looking to a new arbitration medium developed no indications of an early agreement. The public trustees of the Boston Elevated Railway Co., and leaders of the employees' union conferred with Governor Coolidge but, although they agreed on the representative of each side they could not settle on the third member of the proposed new arbitration board.

May Break Off Negotiations

After two conferences were held without result, James H. Vane, general counsel for the carmen's union, said the situation had not improved.

WILSON WILL NOT YIELD

Insists Treaty and League Be Ratified Without Reservations

WASHINGTON, July 18.—President Wilson still is insistent that the peace treaty and League of Nations covenant be ratified without reservations, Senator Capper, republican, Kansas, said today, after a conference with the president at the White House.

Senator Capper said the president took the position that adoption of reservations by the senate was certain to be misinterpreted abroad and would set a precedent which might be followed by other nations. The president pointed out, Senator Capper said, that if all nations adopted their own reservations and placed their own interpretations on the covenant, the real meaning and purpose of the league might be vitiated. The senator said the president did not present arguments, but simply stated facts, leaving him to draw his own conclusions.

Senator Capper said the Shantung settlement was discussed at length and that the president appeared to be in possession of many pertinent and important facts. The senator declined, however, to say what these were.

CONFERENCE ON FARE FIVE DOLLAR POLL TAX TRADING WITH ENEMY DISTRICTS HERE ACT STANDS

(Special to The Sun)

STATE HOUSE, July 18.—A five-cent street car fare in Lowell is a practical certainty if the trustees of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Co. establish a fare district, radiating from Merrimack square to Billerica Centre, Dracut, Tewksbury, Chelmsford and North Chelmsford, Senator Colburn of Dracut told the trustees of the road today at a conference being held with representatives of the cities and towns served by the company on the subject of dividing the lines of the road into at least 12 fare districts.

Senator Colburn said it would be unfortunate if Wilmington and Burlington were tied up in the same district with Lowell as there is no community of interests. John J. O'Rourke, president of the Lowell board of trade, said the districts should extend no farther than Lakeview park, North Chelmsford and Billerica Centre.

ANOTHER SURVEY OF THE MERRIMACK

(Special to The Sun)

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 18.—Congressmen Rogers, Lufkin and Phelan have had a conference with General Blake, army engineer, regarding the Merrimack river improvement and have urged that one of the ablest engineers be sent to New England to make further investigation. General Blake consented to this and will later assign Gen. Langitt for that purpose.

INFANT MORTALITY STILL HIGH HERE

Another high infant mortality score is chalked up by the federal authorities for this city in the week ending July 12, according to figures received at the board of health office today. Lowell is in fourth place among the large cities of the country with a rate of 26.9. The three leaders are Richmond 31.4, Baltimore 27.7, and Memphis 27.1. Fall River, usually near the top, is this week in 23d place, with a rate of only 11.7. Seattle is lowest with 4.3. The large cities had the following rates: Chicago 14.3, Philadelphia 15.3, New York 14.6 and Boston 17.

FIVE DOLLAR POLL TAX FOR FOUR YEARS

Contrary to a very general impression, the increase in poll taxes from $2 to $5 annually to be assessed by the state of Massachusetts to pay for the $100 gratuity being given to service men of the state, will not be in force for five years, but only four, according to a copy of the legislative act received by City Clerk Stephen Flynn today.

The $5 tax will be levied on every male inhabitant above the age of 20 years in and for the years 1920, 1921, 1922 and 1923. The portion of the bonus act approved July 3 which provides for this is found in section 10 which amends a previous act to read as follows:

"In and for the years 1920, 1921, 1922 and 1923 a poll tax of $5 and thereafter a poll tax of $3 shall be assessed on every male inhabitant of the commonwealth above the age of 20 years, whether a citizen of the United States or an alien."

The question has arisen as to what methods the state will take to collect this tax. At the present time the poll tax of $2 collected from Lowell people goes wholly to the city, the state getting its share by a general assessment on the city known as the state tax. The city pays this state tax from the revenue derived from taxes on property and thus has the proceeds of the poll taxes entirely to itself. A few years ago $1 of the poll tax went to the state and the other dollar to the city, but owing to the large number of people who failed to pay their poll taxes, this method was found ineffectual and the state found a surer way of getting its share by assessing the city for a general sum based on the number of assessed polls here.

However, with the new $5 tax the question arises whether the state will ask the city to turn over $3 of its now $5 collected or continue as it is now doing, by levying a general assessment against the city as part of the state tax. At the local assessors' office it is believed that the latter method will be adopted as there will probably be more people trying to "duck" the $5 tax than there are those who avoid paying the present $2 tax. By levying a general assessment, the state is sure of getting its money no matter how much the city collects.

FEDERAL BOARD OFFICIAL COMING

Mr. E. H. Fish of the federal board for vocational education will be in this city every Tuesday until further notice. It was stated today, at St. Merrimack street. His hours in Lowell will be from 1 to 5 p. m.

Brophy, who has charge of the after care department of the American Red Cross, in Lowell, and this of course is connected with vocational education, stated today that he has a number of the $100 bonus blanks for service men at his office, 31 Merrimack street, which he would be glad to distribute to those who care to call for them. He will also assist in filling out the blanks.

TRADING WITH ENEMY ACT STANDS

WASHINGTON, July 18.—An amendment to the sundry civil appropriation bill designed to end enforcement of the trading with the enemy act was rejected in the senate today, 38 to 27. It was offered by Sen. Fall, republican, New Mexico, who said there should be no restrictions on trading with Germany.

AT THE NORMAL SCHOOL

Children of Worthen Street Baptist Church Vacation School Are Entertained

Sixty-five children and five workers, including the pastor, Rev. Walter Woodbury, of the vacation school connected with the Worthen Street Baptist church, were royally entertained this forenoon on the beautiful grounds of the State Normal school by girls of the Community Service club. Automobiles loaned by Mrs. Hutchins Parker, Dr. Lawler and Miss Louise Jenner were used to transport the children from the church to the grounds.

From 9.30 until 12 o'clock the children were led in all sides of games and outdoor frolics and a big ice cream cone went to each one. One or two of the club executives took charge of the informal picnic, assisted by the following club girls: Mary Deagan, Mae Walsh, Anna Egan and Natalie Carroll. These girls are enjoying a vacation from their work, but willingly offered to help as an act of service.

The vacation school being conducted by the Worthen Street church is unique in Lowell church activities. It is in session every day except Saturday and Sunday from 9 to 11.30 a. m. A kindergarten class is held and other classes where boys and girls are taught to make baskets, hammocks and knitting frames. There is no fee required, but each child may contribute one penny a day if he desires. Rev. Mr. Woodbury, with two or three other church workers, are in charge of the school and have given much of their time and energy in planning the work and taking care of the children.

TO OVERTHROW U.S. GOVERNMENT

Open Advocacy of "The Red Terror" Contained in I. W. W. Magazines

Urged Attack With Ferocity of Tigers—Would Burn Codes of Law

NEW YORK, July 18.—Open advocacy of "the red terror," the destruction of the American government and the seizure of power by workers was contained in magazines printed in Russian and Finnish by the I. W. W. which were offered in testimony at today's session of the joint legislative committee which is investigating radical and seditious activities in this state. Some of the magazines were published in New York and others in Chicago.

Excerpts read by translators included such sentences as: "The bourgeoisie can be paralyzed only by the red terror." "Burn the codes of law; take all the riches; death to the bourgeoisie." "One of the most effective weapons is sabotage; let us attack with the ferocity of tigers."

Among a number of letters which were read into the testimony addressed to the I. W. W. headquarters here was one from a woman teacher in a private school asking for literature suitable for boys of high school age. The letter was dated Billina, Kas., and was signed Grace Ganarke Plank. The writer recommended that nothing be sent "so venomous as to antagonize at the outset."

TURNERS FALLS, July 18.—Lewis Parker, aged 22, of North Adams, who two weeks ago was discharged from the army, was drowned last night while bathing in the Connecticut river at Rockdam, near here, and efforts to recover the body there were fruitless. He was visiting relatives here.

AVIATION BRANCH OF THE NAVY

Lowell young men now have an opportunity to join the aviation branch of the navy. Chief Cary of the local naval recruiting station said today men will be signed up at the local office, and preference will be given to those having some knowledge of mechanics.

The following statement relative to aviation recruiting was given to The Sun by Chief Cary:

All men in Class 5 of the naval reserve force who are now on inactive duty and desire to enlist in the regular navy for duty as aviation mechanics may be enlisted as apprentice seamen and if so enlisted shall immediately be given the rating in which they were confirmed in the naval reserve force. They shall not be given a rating higher than that in which they were confirmed, nor shall any man who was not confirmed in his rating be enlisted in any other than a first enlistment rating. Men who were not confirmed prior to their release from active duty will be informed that they will be given an opportunity to qualify by examination for the rating in which they held, but in which they had not been confirmed at the time of their release.

Men enlisted under the provisions of the foregoing paragraph will be given the choice of immediate transfer to any one of the following air stations, or to the naval training station, Great Lakes, Illinois, for instruction in the aviation mechanic school at that place: Chatham, Mass.; Rockaway, N. Y.; Cape May, N. J.; Hampton Roads, Va.; Key West, Fla.; Pensacola, Fla.; Akron, O.; San Diego, Cal., and Coco Solo, C. Z.

Men who have not previously served in the regular navy or naval reserve force may be enlisted as "apprentice seamen for aviation mechanics" and their records clearly marked to indicate such enlistments. Such men, if they so desire, will be transferred immediately upon enlistment to the training station, Great Lakes, for instruction in the Aviation Mechanic school.

Men who have had experience with gas engines or carpenter work and metal workers and fabric workers will be given preference in enlistment for aviation ratings, but men without experience in the above trades, if bright and intelligent, may be accepted.

TO INTERVENE IN HUNGARY

Armed Action by Allied Forces Believed To Be Necessary

Intervention Main Topic of Discussion at Meeting of Supreme Council

PARIS, July 18.—(Havas).—The principal topics of discussion before the allied supreme council yesterday, the Journal says, was allied intervention in Hungary, "where military action seems the only means to end a situation dangerous for Rumania and Poland."

COUNT KAROLYI IS COMING TO AMERICA

BERLIN, Thursday, July 17 (By the Associated Press).—Count Michael Karolyi, former president of the Hungarian republic, has arrived in Italy after several attempts to leave Hungary and will go to America, according to a Vienna despatch to the Kreuz Zeitung.

Several weeks ago, it is said, he escaped to Austria, but he was made prisoner by the Austrians and returned to Budapest. He then procured the assistance of the Italian military authorities, who sent him in charge of a guard to Italy by way of Innsbruck. The Vienna despatch concludes: "He will, however, have to leave Italy for America immediately."

When the armistice with Austria-Hungary was signed last November, Count Michael Karolyi, who had been the leader of the Hungarian independence party, proclaimed a Hungarian republic. He remained in office until late in March, when he resigned and turned over the authority to the communists headed by Bela Kun. He gave as a reason for his action the plea that he could not recognize the boundaries of Hungary outlined by the peace conference.

According to advices received in peace conference circles in Paris yesterday, Bela Kun has been driven from office and Herr Boehm and Herr Lander have seized the reins of power.

Count Karolyi sailed from New York for Europe after a visit of several months in the United States on July 23, 1914. He was detained by the French authorities for several months, but was finally permitted to proceed to Hungary.

CONTINUE EMPLOYMENT

BUREAU HERE

The much discussed question as to whether the Lowell United States employment bureau would be continued in the face of the seemingly inadequate appropriations made for these bureaus in Massachusetts was definitely settled today when Examiner Cronin of the local bureau received a telegram from Congressman John Jacob Rogers stating that Mr. Denmore, federal director of the employment service, had made a definite appointment sufficient to cover the expenses of the Lowell office.

In this connection Edward F. McGrady, federal director of the state employment service, paid a visit to the local bureau today, and after consulting Examiner Cronin and his assistants on the good results accomplished since the inception of the office, arranged plans for the continuing of the office.

Congressman Rogers' telegram is as follows:

Washington, D. C., July 17.

Coraelius F. Cronin, 119 Merrimack st., Lowell, Mass.

Have today had further talk with Director Denmore. His visit to Boston has again been delayed. He now plans to go west again next week and to Massachusetts probably the week after next. No definite date yet fixed. Mr. Denmore tells me that he had definitely apportioned a sufficient amount to cover the expenses of the Lowell office. Mr. Denmore had conference yesterday on Lowell situation.

with Mr. McGrady, federal director for Massachusetts and the above statements were made after Mr. Denmore learned fully Mr. McGrady's point of view on general outlook.

JOHN JACOB ROGERS.

Examiner Cronin said today that he can place fully 100 girls at work in silk mills out-of-town at good wages. Transportation is furnished free. There is also a demand for laundresses and waitresses at North Conway, N. H., the transportation expenses for these positions also being furnished gratis.

A requisition has been received for millwrights, machinists, tin-smiths and blacksmiths for out-of-town work. Examiner Cronin stated.

CROCKER TO RETURN TO UNITED STATES

DUBLIN, July 15 (By the Associated Press).—Richard Crocker, former Tammany leader in New York city, will return to the United States in two months, having found the Irish climate unsatisfactory.

Mr. Crocker will hold a large sale of his horses soon. He intends, however, to retain several and will continue to be represented on the Irish turf.

Mr. Crocker sailed for Liverpool from New York June 5 last on his way to Glencairn, his Irish estate. At that time he said he would return to his Palm beach residence in October. At the time he sailed he seemed in perfect health, having recovered from his illness of last winter. He expressed great eagerness to see his racing stable just before sailing. At that time he said nothing of selling any horses, but declared that he would continue racing this summer.

PARIS, July 18 (By the Associated Press).—There are no American consuls in German ports as yet. British, French and other European consuls are already clearing ships. The cotton cargo was for Czechoslovakia. The food ships carried cargoes privately owned for German sale.

HONORS FOR PERSHING

London Presents Him Freedom of City and a Sword of Honor

LONDON, July 18.—London honored General Pershing today by presenting him the freedom of the city and a sword of honor in the presence of a distinguished company of Britons and Americans gathered within the historic Guild hall. John W. Davis, the American ambassador, the embassy staff, Rear Admiral Harry S. Knapp and his staff, members of the British government and a number of British generals participated.

General Pershing was applauded by the crowds that had gathered when he made his entry into the city, where the guilds and the aldermen in their customary welcoming roles, lent a picturesque aspect to the scene.

The general found a company of the grenadier guards, with its band, drawn up in the yard. He inspected the guards and then entered the hall and was conducted to the dais, where he was greeted by the lord mayor and lady mayoress.

After the ceremony in the Guild hall the lord mayor entertained the company at luncheon at the Mansion house. General Pershing sat at the right of his host, with Mrs. Davis at the left. Others present were Ambassador Davis, Winston Spencer Churchill, the Earl of Reading, Lord Leo, Field Marshal Sir Douglas Haig and Lady Haig, the Earl of Cavendish, Walter Hume Long, Viscount Bryce, the members of General Pershing's staff and the commanding officers of the American units which will take part in tomorrow's victory celebration, members of the American embassy staff, Major General John Biddle and his staff, Rear Admiral Knapp and other American naval officers, Major G. H. Scott and Brigadier G. H. Scott and Brig. Gen. E. M. Maltland of the R-31.

BRYAN FAVORS LEAGUE

Bul Condemns Any Alliance With France—Would Discredit Both

LINCOLN, Neb., July 18.—In a statement given out here, William J. Bryan, while espousing the League of Nations, condemns any alliance with France. He insists it would be a league within a league, to the discredit of both. The statement says:

"An alliance with France is defended on the ground that it is necessary for protection. The League of Nations gives France the same protection it does other nations. A league within a league would not only discredit the league and proclaim our lack of faith in it, but it would be a destructive force. It would disintegrate the League of Nations and disappoint the hope it has aroused.

France might not mourn for she was opposed to the league from the beginning, but America would mourn and the whole world would suffer. The president announced at Manchester that our country was not interested in a league unless it included the whole world. He was right then and the people have not changed. That sentiment ought to cause the defeat of the proposed alliance by an overwhelming majority.

"Ratify the League of Nations. Defeat the proposed alliance. Consistency that those who favor the league should oppose the alliance. They represent opposite policies."

BELGIAN STEEL CORP. TO POOL INTERESTS

BRUSSELS, Thursday, July 17 (By the Associated Press).—Ten or 12 of the most powerful steel corporations of Belgium, whose plants were laid waste by the Germans, have decided to pool their interests into one immense undertaking similar to the United States Steel corporation. The mines in the Briley basin and the duchy of Luxembourg will form part of the trust.

LIFT JITNEY RULES DURING STRIKE

BOSTON, July 18.—In view of the serious situation due to the Elevated strike, the Somerville Board of Aldermen, at a special meeting last evening, suspended the operation of regulations in regard to motor vehicles for hire, adopted July 10.

As a result anyone having an auto may use it in Somerville for carrying passengers without a license during the present strike. City Solicitor F. W. Kean told Enoch B. Robinson, president of the board of aldermen, that the regulations could not be suspended legally, but could be reconsidered. He also questioned the legality of the board's meeting, on the ground that some members had not been properly notified. The vote to suspend was 8 to 7.

Alderman Webster, who opposed the order, raised a "charter objection" after the vote had been taken, under which had been sustained, the order would have had to be on the table until the next meeting. President Robinson ruled that the charter objection could not be entertained, as it should have been offered before and not after the vote.

BIG FOREST FIRES ARE SWEEPING MONTANA

SPOKANE, Wash., July 18.—Forest fires fanned by heavy winds are threatening timber and livestock in western Montana and northern Idaho, according to reports received by federal forest officials here. Several small towns are reported in danger. The flames have driven the fire-fighting crews back. All western Montana was said to be under a pall of smoke.

A band of thousands of sheep were burned when a blaze swept down on Tarkio, a small town west of Missoula, and trapped the animals.

Two ranch houses in the Priest river valley, east of the town of Priest river, Ida., were destroyed by a fire which started Wednesday night and which yesterday was threatening 15 other ranch homes farther up the valley.

MISSOULA, Mont., July 18.—St. Regis, Mont., which was partially destroyed in the forest fires of 1910, has been surrounded by fires on Stager Hill, which have leaped the divide. The town is completely cut off from help and is declared to be in danger of destruction.

POPE URGES GERMANS TO FORGIVE ENEMIES

ROME, July 18.—(Havas).—Pope Benedict has addressed to the bishops of Germany a letter expressing joy over the removal of the blockade. The letter recommends that an attitude of Christian charity be taken toward the question of reparation for war damages and expresses confidence that the civilized nations, and especially Catholics, will aid the populations brought to a state of extreme need. It is recommended that all thoughts of hatred against former enemies be eliminated from the minds of German Catholics.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

THE STRAND
The one and only Theda Bara, queen vampire of the screen, is appearing in "A Woman There Was" at The Strand. It's one of the best things in which this film favorite has been shown in many months and is making many new admirers for the star. See it and be convinced that Miss Bara is truly the real leader in her class. Then there is Bert Lytell in "One Thing at a Time O'Hay," a great picture of the present day. It's the story of a young man who successfully endeavored to win a girl's love, buy a circus and lick the strong man. You'll see Lytell in one of his best parts. The remainder of the program is rounded out with a good comedy, the latest Weekly song hits by Robert Carlsson and organ numbers.

CITIZENS' COUNTER STRIKE AT STETTIN

BERLIN, July 18.—A citizens' counter strike began at Stettin Thursday as a protest against the strike which paralyzed transportation facilities there for the last few days. All stores, including food establishments, drug stores and people's kitchens, have been closed, physicians refuse to treat patients, gas and water plants have been shut down and wells throughout the city are already pumped dry. Railroad workers threaten to extend the strike to Stralsund.

FIVE CENT FARES IN FARE DISTRICTS

BOSTON, July 18.—The bill to give relief to the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway company, formerly the Bay State, was ordered to a third reading in the state senate yesterday afternoon by a roll call vote of 28 to 11, after it had been amended, on

SOLDIERS GIVE UP POLICIES
WASHINGTON, July 18.—Approximately three-fourths of the four million officers and enlisted men in the military forces who took out policies through the war risk insurance bureau during the war have failed to continue their payments. It has been disclosed at the meetings of the bureau's advisory committee of 13, headed by Charles Evans Hughes.

This was attributed largely to the fact that the bureau is unable to communicate with policy holders as 30 per cent. of the addresses of the discharged service men are incorrect. The committee recommended that representatives of the bureau confer with governors of states in regard to obtaining correct addresses, that local representatives of the bureau be established in each state and that a publicity campaign be inaugurated.

LOWELL ENTERTAINERS' GERMANY TO HAVE A AT CAMP DEVENS $200,000,000 CREDIT

If you've ever sat in the stands at Cambridge and heard the yells when the Crimson team scored a winning goal, then you can understand how 500 bronzed and sturdy doughboys cheered, yelled and reared their applause to 55 Lowell girls who staged an entertainment and dancing party for the boys from "over there" at the Jewish Welfare Hut at Camp Devens last evening. The affair was held under the auspices of the Lowell Jewish Welfare board and directed by Mrs. M. E. Harris.

No one has ever said that the Welfare hut was too small, but last evening it was far from large enough to hold the boys from every state in the Union who had returned from hunting the Hun and who showed their way in and filled every nook and cranny of the building.

Following the entertainment program, which consisted of a series of song numbers by well known local singers, impromptu dancing was in order, and the boys who fought and won picked themselves a partner from the corps of Spindie City damsels and tripped the light fantastic until a late hour to the strains of an overseas jazz band which came down to add its bit to the evening's pleasure.

Among the entertainers whose efforts went way over the top were Miss Rose Brownstein, who sang several catchy songs; Miss Marie Devire, songs; and Miss Marion Sanderson, novelty songs, accompanied by Bernard Knopf.

The choruses of the evening were Mrs. Nathan Carp, Mrs. Zimberg, Mrs. L. Keith, Mrs. Stein, Mrs. Pauline Strauss, and Mrs. I. Frank.

The hospital committee of the Jewish Welfare board paid its regular Thursday visit to the base hospital during the afternoon, and brought along a supply of smokes, ice cream and fruit for the wounded men. Miss Rose Brownstein and Bernard Knopf sang to the men in the various wards, accompanied by Miss Mae Laboritz on the piano. The other members of the committee at the hospital were Mrs. Stein and L. Quin.

BATTERY F ASSOCIATES HOLD MEETING

Battery F Associates held a busy meeting last night at the War Camp Community club in Dutton street, with Fred Gleason, chairman, presiding. Secretary Daniel Gray read the minutes of the previous meeting and they were accepted as a statement for the records. It was voted to take some action on the appointment of a memorial firing squad to officiate at all funerals of Lowell world war veterans until the organization of the American Legion post is completed and the following men were chosen: W. C. MacBryne, Daniel Gray, Fred Gleason, Alfred LaLiberte, George Mozley, Martin Cashman, Armon Alit and Bugler Wallace Gurney.

It was announced that Col. Herbert was reorganizing the 102nd regiment simply for the purpose of holding the men together as a fraternal body and that he would soon visit Lowell for this purpose. The meeting voted to conduct a smoker entertainment for the event.

The battery offered full support for the coming French celebration and voted to make the community club its headquarters in the future.

450,000 GERMANS STILL HELD BY FRENCH

BERNE, Thursday, July 18.—According to official despatches from Berlin, it is expected in Germany that the return home of German prisoners of war in France will begin about the middle of August. They will return to Germany by way of Switzerland at the rate of about two thousand per day. The Germans still held by the French number about 450,000.

Have The Sun mailed to your vacation address.

NEW YORK, July 18.—Negotiations for the sale of a large amount of copper to Germany are in progress, and it is expected that they will be concluded in a few days through representatives of German bankers and the Copper Export association. The only question is the establishment here of a sufficient credit for Germany to make the purchase. The vice president of a prominent trust company said today that his institution was willing to go into a $200,000,000 syndicate to make the necessary advance.

It is probable that within the next week such a credit will be tentatively arranged. It will not be used, however, for the purchase of copper alone, but for foodstuffs and other necessities as well. The banking operations will, of course, be contingent upon the approval of the president and the secretaries of state and treasury.

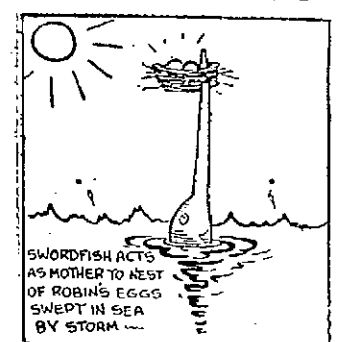

In the meantime, it will be necessary to adopt some means to stabilize exchange if America is to retain European customers and to gain new trade abroad. Foreign exchange is completely demoralized.

At one time today sterling was quoted as low as 4.62½, which is a discount of 12 per cent. This makes it very difficult for British merchants to do business in this country. It is even more difficult for Germany to do business here because of the great demoralization in marks. These are quoted around 7½ cents whereas the par is 23.82.

BIG FISH STORIES WITHOUT "LIKKE"

Proof that the stamping ground isn't completely dried up yet, notwithstanding the July 1 high sign, are the trick fish stories basting in public print. Next year fish yarns will have to be less than two per cent, or the Likke revenue officers will scout up their origin.

The Sawfish Mystery
FEEDBAG, Mich., July 18.—Lumbermen here have been up a tree for the last month owing to a mystifying action taking place with logs floating from here to Flapjack. When they arrived at the latter town they were found saved up in planks, two-by-fours and shingles. Investigation showed that a sawfish had made its way up the river, thereby unraveling the mystery. The men are thinking of installing an aquarium in the sawmill for the sawfish as a permanent place of business.

Bell Ringing Mystery

JAZZVILLE, Ia., July 18.—Farmers in this vicinity were puzzled for some time over a bell ringing under the Hogsnot bridge exactly at 9 o'clock every morning. The mystery was explained when a prominent farmer happened to be crossing the bridge at that hour, and noticed a big school-master fish ringing a cowbell. A minute later a school of bullheads swam up to the spot. As the creek was quite low, he noticed an old arithmetic set against a rock, evidently tossed over by a future citizen on the last day of school.

Miss Mary B. Jenkins of Bath is getting ready to gather the first crop of cotton ever grown in Maine. The plants are thrifty and according to present conditions should bear an early crop, providing the weather is warm. Miss Jenkins planted the cotton as an experiment to find out whether cotton could be grown in New England.

MY ANNUAL JULY SALE

Exactly 530 Suitings at the Price I Quote Below MEN, This Is Decidedly the Greatest Tailoring Event of the Season

Hysteria has—and should have—no place in American business, I do not fear others—surely I should not be afraid of myself. If ever in our national life it were fitting that the citizens should reflect the prosperity of the country in their own appearances—the occasion is now. But economy is also a duty. We should not tolerate waste.

This Remarkable Tailoring Offer to the men of Lowell is for this reason particularly opportune.

IT GIVES YOU A CHANCE TO SECURE AT THE RIDICULOUS LOW PRICE OF $22.50 A TAILOR MADE SUIT, AUTHENTIC STYLE, PERFECTION IN FIT AND AN ABSOLUTE GUARANTEE BY A CONCERN OF SPOTLESS REPUTATION.

TAKE YOUR PICK. 530 SUITINGS, WHEN THE LAST ONE IS SOLD THIS OFFER WILL POSITIVELY END.

Come Today if possible. The sale is limited to 550 customers. It will cost nothing to investigate—compare the woollens with suitings priced elsewhere at $35.00. If a preponderance of evidence can establish a fact, you will be convinced beyond a question of doubt that these woollens offered are so extraordinary that you cannot afford to lose this opportunity of placing your order for one or two suitings at this price of $22.50. Any sensible man will investigate this offer.

Some things are simple, so simple that they need to be explained over and over again, there's nothing mysterious about my Institution—or this tailoring offer—it's strictly my idea of advanced methods of advertising to gain new customers.

RUSH ORGANIZATION OF CAVALRY UNITS

WASHINGTON, July 18.—Organization of the extra cavalry division provided for in the war department plans for the national guard will be pushed vigorously. It was said yesterday at the department.

The infantry divisions will be numbered 51 to 66, inclusive, instead of 25 to 42, as during the war. The numbers up to and including 50 are reserved for regular army divisions, most of which would be created only in the event of war. Plans for the regular organization call for a cavalry division recruited from the entire country, but stationed in Texas.

BIG LAWN PARTY At Sacred Heart Church Grounds Tomorrow

Arrangements are being completed for the annual open-air reunion of the Sacred Heart parishioners, which takes place on the parochial grounds, Moore street, tomorrow afternoon and evening. An excellent program of athletic events has been arranged for the afternoon. The junior events will include egg races, money hunts and pie-eating contests. Valuable prizes will be awarded.

As in former years, the midway, "bubbling over" with enjoyment for young and old, and presenting all the delightful features of the old-time "night before" will be one of the main attractions. The gaily decorated refreshment booths, presided over by many of the pretty girls of the parish, lend an additional charm to the gala occasion.

The children's delight, the "merry-go-round," will be there with bells on. Those who have been interested in the recent transatlantic flights, and wish to experience some of the thrills of "flying through the air" may gratify that wish by taking a ride on the "Razle Dazle." It furnishes all the thrills without the danger of dropping in midocean. In the evening when the thousands of vari-colored lights cast their brilliant rays the midway, a veritable fairyland is presented.

LAND GREED OF THE RICH TROUBLES JAPAN

BY H. H. KINTON
Special Far East Correspondent for The Lowell Sun

TOKYO, Japan.—Japan, in its advance toward modern conditions, is accumulating a vast and varied assortment of modern problems. Probably the most pressing is housing, with the servant situation a close second.

Japan is doing a great amount of building, but most of it is of banks and business offices and narkin mansions and gardens, and all these, of course, especially the latter, mean the tearing down of many of the smaller houses of the middle and lower classes.

The population of Tokyo, for instance, increases at the rate of something like 100,000 a year, and what building of dwellings there is is wholly inadequate. The result is a distressing shortage, with rents going up, lumber going up, in fact, nearly everything going up except houses—and Japanese airships, as the jokesters delight in telling.

Kobe, likewise, has its worries over the shortage of houses, and at a recent conference of its leading citizens, presided over by Mayor Kashima, it was decided to build as many dwellings as was possible with the municipal funds available.

Within a fortnight contracts for 1900 houses had been let, all of which are to be ready for occupancy within six months.

The committee in charge of the project finds that the city will be able to rent its houses from 20 to 40 per cent cheaper than the ordinary prices. Besides this, the tenant will save a considerable amount of red tape, not to speak of the exorbitant deposit of six or eight months' rent, only one month's rent in advance being required by the city.

suggests that citizens of the capital should establish co-operative building societies such as flourish in western countries.

The viscount has also urged that the rich should refrain from costly banquets and help relieve the situation by investing their surplus cash in houses. He attributes at least a part of the present problem to the selfishness of the narkin who has been going in for mansions and extensive gardens.

"Millionaires buy up the land around their homes, tear down the buildings and turn available living space into gardens for their own pleasure, surrounding these gardens by high walls," complains the mayor.

"I feel that there should be some restrictions put upon the size of the property any one family should occupy."

"I am of the opinion that not more than from 300 to 500 tsubo (a tsubo is 35 square feet) should be allowed any one person. If this restriction were enforced there would be ample building space for middle and lower class citizens. The same restrictions ought to be applied to tea houses and restaurants, which use much ground for their interior parks and gardens."

The newspaper Kokumin has started a campaign to induce capitalists to build more houses for Tokyo. It reports cases where people have come to Tokyo to live and have been compelled to stay in hotels for a year or more without finding a house to live in.

These various suggestions of Viscount Tajiri, backed up by newspaper campaigns, evidently have yielded some fruit, for the Residential House Purchase guild has just formed, and its first task will be to build a large number of small houses at a cost of about 1000 yen each. These will be rented at 13 yen a month. The guild begins business with a capital of a million yen, and it is predicted that Baron Sakata, former minister of finance, will be its first president.

Somewhat less vexing and pressing than the housing problem is the servant question. But it is considerably younger and may be expected to develop rapidly enough.

The old relationship between master and servant is fast yielding to the aggressive and aggravating modern system of employer and employee. The Japanese maids, or "amah-sans," who have been known as the most docile and submissive creatures under the sun, are asking for more wages and less work.

"We are greatly surprised at the growing expectations of those girls who seek positions as servants," an employment agency manager said. "They want to remove the discrimination existing between master and servant, demanding a proper recognition of their personal rights. A young girl who recently visited our office to seek a position as servant wanted freedom from 1 to 6 o'clock in the afternoon so that she might study English with the object, as she told us of becoming an astronomer."

INTERNATIONAL INSTITUTE EN- LIGHTENS COMMUNITY CENTRE GIRLS AT MIDDLE HALL

Wednesday night at Middlesex hall 75 girls, American and foreign born, had an evening of fun together. American songs and songs from the old country were sung, and old as well as new dances were on the program. Greek refreshments were served and throughout the evening each American girl had a foreign girl as her partner. The national anthem was sung at the close of the evening.

Health and Happiness

Women of today seem to listen to every call of duty except the supreme one that tells them to guard their health. Home duties, church duties, war activities, and the hundred-and-one calls for charitable enterprises soon lead women to overdo. Nervousness, headaches, backaches and female troubles are the inevitable result.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I was very weak, always tired, my back ached, and I felt sickly most of the time. I went to a doctor and he said I had nervous indigestion, which, added to my weak condition, kept me worrying most of the time—and he said if I could not stop that, I could not get well. I heard so much about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound my husband wanted me to try it. I took it for a week and felt a little better. I kept it up for three months, and I feel fine and can eat anything now without distress or nervousness. Health and happiness? Yes, I have both now."—Mrs. J. WORTMINE, 2342 North Taylor Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

The majority of women nowadays overdo, there are so many demands upon their time and strength; the result is invariably a weakened, run-down nervous condition with headaches, backache, irritability and depression—and soon more serious ailments develop. Avoid them by taking in time

Dallinger Anxious To Continue Probe of Charges of Cruelty to Troops

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 15.—Congressman Frederick W. Dallinger announced that he will request the special committee investigating charges of cruelty to American troops abroad to summons more witnesses further to substantiate his charges.

In his statement Mr. Dallinger made an attack upon the "whitewash method" of regular army officers. He said that "Hard Boiled" Smith, the officer who was sentenced to three years for mistreatment of prisoners, received a fine punishment from enlisted men when he reached Fort Jay, New York, the other day, and that he was now in the hospital.

Mr. Dallinger's statement is as follows:

Assured By Baker

"Since the beginning of the war I have called on the war department to investigate specific instances of inefficiency, and specific charges of one kind or another, concerning the treatment of our soldiers. In every instance, Secretary Baker has diplomatically assured me that an investigation would be made. As a result, and ordinarily after several months' delay, I have been positively assured, either that a most thorough investigation showed no truth whatever in the charges, or that they had been greatly exaggerated, and whatever faults had been found, had been corrected. Always there is delay and nothing is done.

"As a result, you may believe me when I say that I am thoroughly disgusted with these army official investigations. The case system in vogue in our army makes an investigation nothing more than a joke. Those regular army officers naturally want to protect themselves and each other, and it becomes a case of simply 'my helping you if you'll help me, let's work together and pull the wool over the eyes of Mr. Baker, congress and the country.'

Testimony of Cruelty

"At the investigation called as a result of charges made by me on the floor of the house, of cruelties to soldiers in France, Congressman Flood asked me why I didn't let the war department do the investigating. Congress did the investigating, and as the result the six witnesses who testified to the most awful cruelties imaginable, proved within 77 hours all I had charged, and further proof can be furnished by several hundred other soldiers who are itching to testify. The congressional investigating committee got results in 77 hours after my charges were made. If the war department had done this investigating, it would have taken at least 77 days to get any kind of a report, and at least 77 years to get such facts brought to light as we discovered in a matter of hours.

"Russell N. Anderson, a former sergeant in the A.E.F., testified Tuesday to having read the charges brought against Hard Boiled Smith and the sentence given him. Mr. Anderson told the committee under oath that in spite of the evidence of many witnesses who testified at the court-martial of this Hard Boiled Smith, the court merely sentenced him to be dishonorably discharged from the service. Evidence of over 50 witnesses showed the most horrible cruelties perpetrated on numberless American soldiers, and yet the court only gave the man primarily to blame a dishonorable discharge. Why didn't the court have him strapped on the wrist? Later the reviewing authority objected and it seems that in addition to this punishment the man was given a sentence of three years.

Other Witnesses to Be Called

"In the next few days I shall ask the investigating committee to call other witnesses. Among them will be officers who made up the court which tried Lieutenant Smith and Lieutenant Mason. I feel sure that the committee will find among these witnesses men who will testify that the trial of those two men was a joke; that for example there were over 50 witnesses who testified that Lieutenant Mason clubbed prisoners, robbed prisoners and stole their money; that those prisoners, or most of them, had no charges brought against them and were in every way innocent. Lieutenant Mason admitted a charge of being drunk and disorderly, the punishment for which is dishonorable discharge from the service. That is all he got.

"Hard Boiled Smith arrived at Fort Jay, N. Y., the other day and was almost at once seen by some of his victims there serving sentence. He was recognized by them and before the guards arrived he was beaten to a pulp and I believe he is now in the hospital recovering from a punishment meted out to him by those very men whom he had himself tortured. It is thus that man takes the law into his own hands when the courts fail."

SOLDIERS SNEERED AT

Gen. Edwards Finds Prejudice Against Uniform—Favors "Civics" on Furloughs

BOSTON, July 15.—Major General Clarence R. Edwards of the Northeastern department and former commander of the 26th (Yankee) Division, has requested the war department that soldiers stationed at the coast defenses be allowed to wear civilian clothes while on pass or furlough. Investigation has disclosed, he informed the Washington officials, that pre-war prejudice against the army uniform is apparent.

During a tour of the coast defenses in the department, which the general terminated yesterday, he heard many complaints that enlisted men were openly sneered at. Intelligence officers detailed by the general to make an investigation substantiated the soldiers' stories.

TO OBTAIN WINE FOR RELIGIOUS PURPOSES

WASHINGTON, July 15.—Regulations issued by the bureau of internal revenue afford religious organizations opportunity to obtain wine for sacramental purposes.

Where sacramental wines are produced and distributed under clerical supervision, as in certain monasteries of the Roman Catholic church, the usual internal revenue tax must be paid and accurate records kept of all shipments.

In case of purchases of wine from dealers not under church supervision, the bureau expresses a preference that an affidavit of the use to which the wine is to be put accompany the order for the protection of both the seller and the purchaser. Churches not having hierarchical organizations will obtain wine on the application of the minister or duly authorized officer of the congregation.

Jewish congregations, each of which is a separate entity under no superior prelate, will obtain wine for their services on application of the rabbi. The historic mead, brewed from grapes and honey, will continue to be used in the passover feast. The bureau has ruled, contrary to the erroneous reports that mead was prohibited, that the drink may be made in accordance with ancient custom in the homes of Jewish families, when intended for use in religious festivals.

PERSHING GREETED IN HOUSE OF COMMONS

LONDON, July 18 (By the Associated Press).—Gen. John J. Pershing, commander-in-chief of the American Expeditionary Forces, met the military members of parliament in the committee room of the house of commons yesterday. He was enthusiastically received when introduced by Winston Spencer Churchill, secretary for war. Mr. Churchill called attention to the fact that Gen. Pershing had been there before he and his troops had fought side by side with the British, and added the secretary, "every day our feeling has grown stronger for these gallant men and their gallant commander."

In an address in which he discussed the sentiment of the American soldiers and people, Gen. Pershing said: "We are not a military people; we inherited from you the fear of a standing army. We were wholly unprepared, although some of us felt that we would sooner or later enter the war. Had it not been for the lessons learned from you I am sure our efforts would not have been what they have been. Our associations from the start were most pleasant. I was accorded a visit to general headquarters and learned from your commander-in-chief what was deemed most important for us to consider first."

"It was our preference to fight beside our brothers in blood, our own kinsmen, whose course, aggression and tenacity we have always admired and which has had such an influence on our army in Europe. But we found the channel ports fully occupied with your supplies; therefore, we were driven to the southern ports of France and compelled to choose other railroads to the eastern part of the western front."

"We always had in mind the possibility of using our troops on any part of the western front, and, in planning our warehouses, we located them at a central point from which railroads radiated, and later found this sound for we had to reach many parts of the front."

"We took up the question of training with your troops with general headquarters and found everything placed at our disposal. Officers were detailed to help us establish a staff college and corps schools; even officers of field rank instructed our men in bayonet and bomb-throwing, thereby setting a fine example to our own officers."

"I recall also that your leaders in the war office, always direct in expression of opinion, agreed with me and my superiors that the Americans had formed their own army to fight in their own way, and did everything possible to help us carry out our aim. Field Marshal Haig told me that that was the only way, except possibly to meet an emergency, and hoped, as I did, that some day our armies would be located side by side.

"Fortunately circumstances so shaped that, instead of having to continue to this year, we were enabled to end the war by the combined attack of the three armies. The association thus brought about has led to an understanding between the two armies that I am sure will be as lasting as time. I feel that the discharged and demobilized soldiers will carry with them into private life the necessity for closer and firmer union, to the end that we may be united as peoples likewise forever."

"It seems to me that all discussion of ways and means to prevent war and of plans for combined nations must be based on a union in thought and in heart of the Anglo-Saxon peoples."

BIG INCREASE IN LOWELL'S STATE TAX

(Special to The Sun)
STATE HOUSE, Boston, July 18.—Lowell's contribution to the state tax this year will be $22,600 more than last year, although the total tax assessed by the legislature remains the same, $11,000,000.

The increase is due to the new basis of apportionment recently adopted, and which is to continue in effect for two years after this. Under the new arrangement, the state tax is based upon the valuation of real estate and the personal property in each city and town, as determined by the local assessors, in proportion to the valuation of all such property in the entire commonwealth. In past years it has been based upon the actual valuation of such property, plus the tax commissioner's estimate of the value of intangible personal property in each city and town which was not taxed by the local assessors.

The effect of the change is to impose a larger proportionate share of the tax upon cities and towns which have taxed their real estate at its full value, while the assessment is relatively lower upon municipalities which have adopted low valuations for real estate, and in the past have failed to tax all the intangible personal property owned within their limits.

	1913	1914
Bedford	12,500	15,100
Billerica	14,050	11,580
Chelmsford	12,510	10,820
Dracut	5,600	6,350
Lowell	231,520	211,550
Pepperell	6,050	5,510

FIRE IN AVON STREET

An alarm from box 76 shortly before 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon was for a threatening blaze in the attic of the home of Mrs. Mary Kelly at 162 Avon street. The blaze started on the upper floor of the house and when discovered was burning through the roof. The firemen responded to the alarm in haste and succeeded in confining the damage to the roof and the upper chambers. Mrs. Kelly who was in the house at the time of the fire, was completely overcome and her condition was such that it was necessary to summon a physician.

LEMON JUICE

It is harmless and never irritates.—Adv.

BELA KUN OUSTED IN HUNGARY

PARIS, July 18.—The Hungarian communist government has been ousted, according to despatches from reliable sources in Vienna, received by the peace conference.

Troops returning from the Czech front were reported entering Budapest in large numbers. Budapest was in disorder.

Herr Boehm and Herr Lander have taken over control of the communist government. Bela Kun was reported in a Budapest despatch received Wednesday to have broken off with nearly all the socialist leaders. Officers of the soviet army were said to be deserting at every opportunity. The communist leader was quoted as having told his minister of education that he was tired of trying to ride socialist and communist horses at the same time.

Herr Boehm, who has been commander of the Hungarian armies, was reported in prison in a despatch from Vienna on Wednesday. This despatch also stated that Bela Kun was seeking some excuse to leave Hungary and that he would not return.

PELLETIER HONORED BY POPE BENEDICT

BOSTON, July 18.—Cable despatches from Rome received yesterday state that Joseph C. Pelletier, supreme advocate of the Knights of Columbus and district attorney of Boston, has been elevated to the rank of knight commander of St. Gregory the Great by Pope Benedict XV. This honor was conferred in recognition of Mr. Pelletier's services as a member of the K. of C. committee on war activities. The same order was given to James A. Flaherty of Philadelphia, William D. Parkin of New York, and Edward L. Hearn of New York, all of whom have been prominent in the war work of the K. of C. abroad.

The knight of St. Gregory is one of the highest honors that a Catholic layman can receive from the church.

Joseph C. Pelletier and James A. Flaherty are now members of the K. of C. committee which has in hand the work of organizing a nation-wide system of K. of C. night schools and supplementary education for working men.

This is a picture of Miss Martha Throop, the "modern Venus," using her favorite hair tonic! Miss Throop, who at 16, has the physical proportions of the Venus de Milo, has heavy, lustrous hair to match her beauty. Such exercise as this makes the blood rush to her scalp and stimulates her hair.

FOR BEAUTIFUL HAIR—EXERCISE! SAYS GIRL WHO "MEASURES UP TO VENUS"

BY MARTHA THROOP
The best hair tonic in the world is exercise!

I have read dozens of advertisements of wonder-working shampoos and tonics but I never knew or heard of anything so absolutely sure to make the hair grow as giving it plenty of fresh air and exercise.

While standing before a mirror one morning I suddenly dawned on me that my hair was growing long and more luxuriant.

I couldn't figure out the reason at first but now I am convinced it was the physical exercise I began to take regularly when I was about thirteen. I worked in a gym with my brother and I always loved to fool around the parallel bars. I studied the thing out and came to the conclusion that such stunts as shown in the picture made my hair grow.

Why shouldn't it?
Exercise like this throws the blood into the head; it helps nourish the scalp.

Blood is a cleanser and revivifier. Hair will grow if the scalp is healthy. It is as plain as A.B.C.

Nearly every woman has noticed that when she is ill or very tired and nervous her hair loses its lustre and life,—and, that, on the contrary, when she feels well and energetic her hair brightens up and is fluffy and full of life and snap.

It is rather easy to tell a woman's physical condition by looking at her hair.

I do all my exercises with my hair hanging loose, or in a loose braid. I never use any tonic or prepared shampoo—just keep it clean and never neglect the nightly brushing.

FOR DELICIOUS ICE CREAM—You thoroughly enjoy the rich ice cream you make with Puddine. A tablespoonful of Puddine—with the recipe given in the package—makes your ice cream rich and velvety. Ice cream made with Puddine requires less milk and eggs, too!

Puddine is a dessert in itself—an easy one to make. It's the sure dessert—a smooth, firm mold of rich chocolate, cream vanilla, rose vanilla, orange, lemon—in fact, your favorite flavor.

Puddine is pure and wholesome, too—good for the children and enjoyed by grown-ups. And package costing but 15c will serve 15 people. You can use as much or as little as you need at one time. You can get it at your grocer's.

Try serving Puddine with fresh fruit.

Fifteen Years of Aches and Pains Of Rheumatism Quickly Leave

LOWELL WOMAN SAYS SHE HAS AT LAST SECURED REAL
REMEDY FOR RHEUMATISM

"I think I have at last found a real remedy for rheumatism," said Mrs. C. A. Cheswell of 5 Shafter St., Lowell, Mass.

MRS. CHESWELL
Who Says Weldon Conquered Her Rheumatism.

"I have had rheumatism for about fifteen years in my hands and feet; they have been swollen to almost twice their natural size and extremely painful. My feet were so sore that many times it was impossible for me to walk.

"My hands were also swollen, stiff, and I could hardly bend them. I was very much afraid I would be crippled with the disease as I had seen so many troubled in the same way.

"Naturally I had tried about everything recommended, but each time I was disappointed; nothing seemed to reach my case. Finally I decided to give this Weldon a trial. I had only taken it a short time when the swelling left my hands and feet, the pain disappeared and I would hardly know I ever had rheumatism.

"I am recommending Weldon to all my friends who suffer from rheumatism, for it is truly a wonder-worker for that disease."

Weldon is the new remedy for rheumatism, which is composed of herbs, roots and barks, with other medicinal ingredients and tends to drive rheumatism from the blood. Weldon does not contain alcohol or habit-forming drugs of any kind. One trial proves the value of this remarkable preparation. Don't suffer another day—get Weldon now at drug stores and reliable druggists everywhere.—Adv.

Powerful Pile Remedy Discovered

Has Never Failed to End Most Obstinate Case of Piles in Few Days.

For years it has been proved that so-called external remedies applied to, or inserted in the rectum cannot cure piles and that the best can only give temporary relief. Surgical operations also do not remove this cause, but simply the formation.

This wonderful prescription, known as Miro Pile Remedy, so efficient in the treatment of piles, that even chronic cases of from 20 to 30 years standing with profuse bleeding have been completely cured in from three to ten days. Think of it! Just a few doses of a carefully balanced prescription and the most persistent case of piles is absorbed, never to return.

Just read what Henry J. Stone of the Lorain, Ohio, Fire Department says: "I had bleeding and protruding piles for three years and tried all kinds of remedies without result, but was thoroughly cured after taking one bottle of Miro."

Frank J. Phillips of Bird Island, Minnesota, says:

"I used half a bottle of Miro. It worked like a charm. I no longer suffer with bleeding and protruding piles. I never regretted the money for such blessing as I am now enjoying. I would have used the whole bottle, but it was not necessary."

All pharmacists dispense Miro or can get it for you on short notice. Surely it's worth the little trouble to obtain it to be rid of piles forever.

IMPORTANT—What is known as itching piles are not piles in the true sense of the word, although this condition may accompany a true case of piles. For this condition Miro Pile Ointment has been prepared as in such cases it is not necessary to take the internal prescription.

If your druggist cannot supply you we will gladly send either of the above, mail charges paid, on receipt of price. Internal Treatment $1.50, War Tax 5c, Ointment 50c, War Tax 2c extra. Guaranteed Remedies Co., Elyria, Ohio.

LONG RANGE CANNON

French Engineer Designed
One Which Would Have
Silenced "Big Bertha"

PARIS, Thursday, July 17.—While giving evidence before a committee of the chamber of deputies investigating the Briey question today, M. L. Bourgeois, chief engineer of the navy department, said that at the time Paris was being bombarded by German long range guns, he had designed a cannon with a range of 100 miles which could be put in position in an hour.

He stated that previous to that time, he had urged upon Albert Thomas, then under-secretary of state for war and munitions, the importance of bombarding the Briey iron works and had been asked to design a long range cannon. His plans, however, were sent from one committee to another and the order to manufacture it was not given until February, 1918. The gun was ready for action at the time the armistice was signed, he said.

NEW 48 HOUR LAW IN EFFECT TODAY

BOSTON, July 18.—Announcement was made yesterday afternoon by the state board of labor and industries that the new 48-hour law, which was approved by Gov. Coolidge April 18, takes effect today.

The following statement was issued by the board yesterday afternoon:

"This law provides that no child under 15 years of age and no woman shall be employed in labor in any factory or workshop or in any manufacturing, mercantile or mechanical establishment, telegraph office or telephone exchange or by any express or transportation company more than nine hours in any one day nor more than 48 hours in any one week.

"This law is regarded as another forward step which Massachusetts has taken for the workers of the commonwealth. In connection with this law, it is also of interest to learn that Massachusetts has been designated by the federal government as one of the states in which the employment certificate issued under the laws of the state has the same force and effect as a federal certificate of age under the terms of the child labor law act.

"The state board of labor and industries, which has jurisdiction over the enforcement of this law, has sent out to employers generally throughout the commonwealth the new time notices to be used in connection with the new law."

Don't Spoil Your Hair By Washing It

When you wash your hair, be careful what you use. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

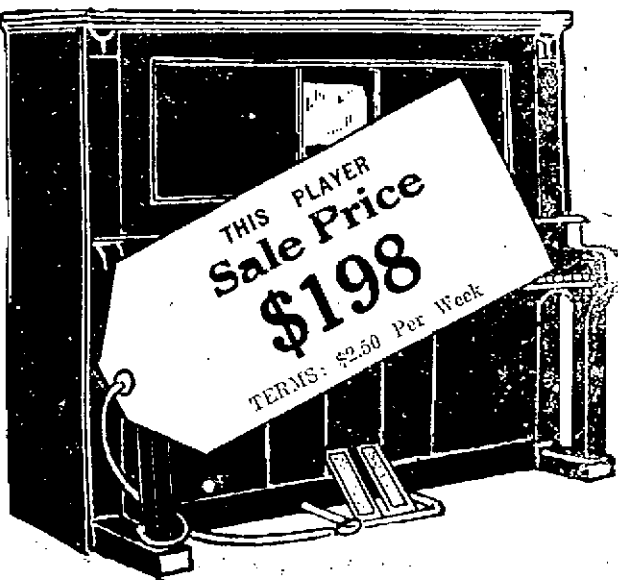

The best thing to use is Multifold coconut oil shampoo. For this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap and beats anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, and bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt, and dandruff.—Adv.

WILDE ON POINTS

Pal Moore Loses To English Flyweight in London
LONDON, July 13.—Jimmy Wilde, the British flyweight champion, defeated Pal Moore of Memphis, Tenn., in a 20-round bout at the Olympia last night. The referee gave the decision to Wilde on points.
Twenty thousand persons witnessed the fight. Moore administered much punishment to his antagonist in the early stages of the bout, but at the end of the 12th round Wilde led slightly on points.
In the 14th round Moore sent a jab to Wilde's mouth, which made the blood spout. It was evident in the last rounds that Moore was trying for a knockout, but Wilde's ringcraft and cleverness prevented the American from carrying out his plan.
On the invitation of the prince of Wales, Gen. John J. Pershing occupied the royal box with the prince and his brother, Prince Albert. The party was given an ovation. Gen. Pershing frequently waved his hands or bowed his acknowledgment to the plaudits of the crowd.

INTER-ALLIED REGATTA ON SEINE

PARIS, Wednesday, July 16.—Elimination heats were rowed in the inter-allied regatta on the Seine today over the mile and a half course from the St. Cloud bridge to Suresnes.
In the single sculls the first heat was won by Ransfield of New Zealand and Major Paul Wingham of Boston second and Buxton of England third. In the second heat, Donas of Italy was first and Giran of France second.
In the double sculls the first heat was won by the New Zealand four. Australia won the first heat of the eight-oared race, Czechoslovakia being second and Italy third. In the second heat, New Zealand was first, Canada second, Belgium third and Portugal fourth. The Cambridge, England, crew won the third heat, beating the American crew by half a length in the best race of the day. The French crew was third.

FASTEST MILE OF YEAR AT MAINE

BANGOR, Me., July 18.—The fastest mile run in the free-for-all at Bangor yesterday afternoon. The old Grand Circuit horse, The Problem, won the second heat of that event in 2:10 1/4 and the third heat in 2:11. He was driven home hard in all three heats by B. H. Brunt, a Walter Cox entry.
Caval Grand of Joe Johnson's string failed to show after the first heat of the 2:21 class and the Duke of Canuck, after finishing far back in two heats, won the third heat in 2:11. He was taken straight in the 3:17 mixed. Colonel Patch, a Bangor horse, after taking two heats made a bad break in the third and had to go again.
The 2:21 was taken handily in three straight by Ruth Cochato of the Hudson stables by Guilford. Nearly every heat ended in a whipping drive.

GREAT BOUTS AT C.A.A.

Currie Given Decision Over Logan—Conley and Goulette in Whirlwind Number

Joe Currie of New Haven and Phil Logan of Pittsfield fought a whirlwind 12-round bout at the Crescent rink last night, battling hard from long to close, with neither fairly even when the final clang of the bell was sounded. Referee Lynch called the bout a draw, but his decision did not please the majority of the fans.
Currie and Logan proved about as evenly matched pair of matters as ever performed here. Logan was taller and possessed a longer reach. He did most of the forcing and at long range boxing had it on his opponent. Currie, short and stocky, carried heavy haymakers and excelled at in-fighting. The boys lost no time setting down to business, and they fought furiously from beginning to end. The crowd roared loudly both in wonderful condition, especially after the strenuous battling, and their efforts made a big hit with the fans. As the boys left the ring they were applauded to the echo.

For real toe to toe slugging and vigorous fighting all the way, few bouts over equal in the city could be the eight-round number with Happy Conley of Lowell and Young Goulette of Lawrence as the principals. They hammered their way into the hearts of all present and put up a bout that will be recorded as one of the greatest of the season. Goulette, a little heavier than Conley, took a lead in the start, but Happy never backed away. He stood in there and mixed it in lively fashion, and brought down the house on several occasions. Goulette probed a "beat" in taking and also showed exceptional ability in handling out stiff punishment. It was real slam-bang stuff and the draw decision seemed to please the majority.
Charlie Mitchell of Braintree and Young Drew of Lawrence appeared in a bout scheduled for eight rounds. It ended in four, when with Mitchell hanging on the ropes after taking a multitude of blows from Drew, the referee intervened and pointed to Drew. Mitchell made many friends here by his great work against his much taller and heavier opponent. He floored Drew in both the first and second rounds, but in the third the Lawrence boy found defense for Mitchell's heavy attack and gave him an artistic lacing. The referee's action met with the approval of all.
In the opening bout Johnny Boyle, Lowell veteran, and a "thousand" battles, met Arthur Ross of Boston, and for three rounds the Lowell boy more than held his own with his younger adversary. After that, however, Ross began to pepper Johnny and was beating him down in the fifth, when a

HUGGINS HAS MADE GOOD AT NEW YORK WHETHER TEAM WINS

PENNANT OR NOT
BY FRÉD TURBYVILLE
N.E.A. Sports Writer

If the New York Americans, now fighting with the White Sox for the lead in the younger circuit, finish first, second or third, Miller Huggins, manager, will have accomplished a noteworthy feat.

For—in the Yankee lineup of today but six regulars who participated in the campaign of 1917 remain. They are Peckinpaugh, Pipp, Baker, Shawkey, Russell and Mogridge. Outside of the pitching staff but three. An entire new outfield, one infielder, new catching staff and new pitchers, have been welded into a machine formidable to other contenders.

Miller Huggins is not a booster—he's not even an optimist. He isn't claiming the pennant. He's only claiming a team that will fight to the finish for the flag. And he admits there are weak spots in his team, refusing, however, to point them out at this stage of the game from saying his team "is not versatile."

It's easier to talk to Miller about the other contenders in the league. For instance he declares the White Sox aggregation is "a wonderful team," despite the fact Kid Gleason is winning on three pitchers.

"The team that beats Chicago wins the pennant," he said. "It's the same aggregation to a man that won the world's series in 1917. Same management, too, one might say, for there is Kid Gleason on the bench and Eddie Collins in the field. They just about ran things in 1917. The Sox are good in all departments."

Miller says Lee Fohl's Indians are a great team, too, but points out the need of a real pitcher to round out the staff.

"The Sox have the best of the remaining schedule and that's a great advantage for the Sox are strong on their home grounds."

"Who sells it cheapest?" you ask and this evening's issue of The Sun answers the question because each live merchant advertises in it.

O'Connor Now Acting Manager at Portland—League Will Not Last Long

PORTLAND, Me., July 18.—Helmie Wagner has quit the Portland New England league team and Pres. John H. Donnelly of Lowell has assumed ownership and control.
Jack O'Connor, right fielder, catcher since Sweetland disappeared a few days ago, is acting as manager. President Donnelly writes a Portland friend that it will be useless to attempt to finish the season with four clubs, but that he hopes to continue through next week with Haverhill and Fitchburg, playing in Lewiston and Portland, and also that he is seeking an eight-city circuit for 1920 with Lowell and Lawrence barred as punishment for quitting the league in mid season. Attendance in Portland, not large at any stage of the season, has dwindled steadily in the past fortnight.

It is the news, the truth and fit to print. This is the standard The Sun follows in printing city, state and national news.

First Step in Resumption of Diplomatic Relations

VERSAILLES, Thursday, July 17.—Announcement was made semi-officially today that Baron Kurt von Leisner, head of the German mission, had been appointed charge d'affaires to look after German interests in France.

The appointment is the first step by Germany in the resumption of diplomatic relations with her former opponents. Baron von Leisner formerly was a secretary of the German embassy in Washington. He has been attached to the German peace delegation since its arrival in Versailles.

SHIPS ARE TIED UP ALL
ALONG ATLANTIC COAST

NEW YORK, July 18.—The strike of seamen, firemen and others, which has held up ships here and caused piers to become piled high with freight, entered its second week today.

A few private owners have yielded to the strikers' demands, but at this point about 400 vessels remain idle, and at Boston, Philadelphia, New Orleans and other Atlantic and gulf ports the number of ships tied up is estimated at more than 100. Many of these are United States shipping board vessels leased to private corporations.

WOULD CLASS RAILROAD
DEFICIT AS WAR LOSS

WASHINGTON, July 18.—The railroad administration's deficit, now exceeding $400,000,000, might as well be classed as a war loss. Chairman Clark of the interstate commerce commission yesterday told the house interstate commerce committee, considering the Esch bill for regulation of carriers after the period of federal control. When the roads are returned, he said, the government should assist by lending them money at a rate not obtainable from banks.

It was obvious, he said, that the roads must be able to increase operating incomes by increasing rates, as reduction of wages was out of the question.

Without some declaration as to the rate situation, he contended that, with the termination of federal control, interstate rates would automatically become what they were fixed by state commissions.

PUFFER-HAZZARD CASE
TO BE HEARD IN FALL

BOSTON, July 18.—Miss Mabel E. Puffer of Ayer, and her former colored fiance and choreman, Arthur G. Hazzard, also of Ayer, were both present in the equity motion session of the superior court before Judge Wait yesterday, ready to give their versions of how Hazzard came into the possession of property which it is alleged in the pending suit really belongs to Miss Puffer.

Both sides had numerous witnesses and were prepared to offer evidence, but Judge Wait declined to hear evidence in this preliminary proceeding. Counsel then entered into a stipulation that none of the property alleged in the bill to have been turned over to Hazzard by Miss Puffer while she was suffering from the hallucination that Hazzard was a much-sought-for Christian Science practitioner would be transferred.

According to the bill, Miss Puffer asked Hazzard if he were the practitioner and he asserted that he was. From then on he became a frequent visitor at her home in Ayer, and when he suggested marriage, she accepted him, it is alleged, under the belief that he was this Christian Science practitioner with whom she had had frequent communion, but had never married. The property claimed in the bill to have been turned over to Hazzard is in excess of $5800, together with several articles of personal property and furniture.

Counsel for Hazzard stipulated that there would be no change of possession pending a hearing of the bill on its merits next fall. Pleadings are to be completed on or before July 23.

ARMS FOR DEFENSIVE
PURPOSE IN MEXICO

DOUGLAS, Ariz., July 18.—Bulletins have been posted in all of the towns of the state of Sonora stating that the Mexican government by special arrangement with the United States government would be permitted to bring in arms and ammunition for defensive purposes. Any resident wishing to obtain arms and ammunition might do so by making formal application to the city council and they would be issued at cost, the notice said. Americans bringing word today of the posting of the notice, said many Mexicans had expressed the intention of taking advantage of the opportunity thus offered to get cheap guns and ammunition.

EX-KAISER SERIOUSLY ILL

Shows "High Degree of Nervousness"—Suffering From
"Deep Melancholy"

BERLIN, July 18 (By the Associated Press).—The Pan-German Deutsche Zeitung, which stands close to former royal circles, takes a serious view of the illness of former Emperor William, calling it "deep melancholy." It is said that he is so depressed that his physician views his condition as critical.

He is said rarely to leave his apartment and seldom to see his closest friends. The paper says that he spends many hours in prayer and that when he does talk, he wants to converse on religious subjects. He is said to show a "high degree of nervousness."

The condition of the former emperor is such, according to the newspaper, that she may have to return to Germany for treatment of her old heart trouble.

CONFIDENT OF LANDING
BOMB PLOTTERS

PROVIDENCE, July 18.—William J. Flynn, director of the bureau of investigation of the department of justice and former chief of the United States secret service, was in Providence yesterday, consulting with Special Agent Hovick of the department of justice, United States Marshal John J. Richards and others concerning plans for watching the Bolsheviks and other radical elements and to prevent future bomb outrages. Chief Flynn said:

"The department will not show its hand until conclusive evidence has been obtained against the conspirators. It will take time to get the instigators, but we are now confident of landing them."

He will go from here to Boston and other points in Massachusetts.

INCREASE IN POSTAL SAVINGS DEPOSITS

Postal savings deposits forged ahead during the war $34,000,000, according to a statement just made public by the postoffice department. On March 31, 1917, six days prior to our declaration of war, deposits in the United States postal banks totaled up $125,424,586. On October 31, 1918, 11 days prior to the signing of the armistice, they had increased to $153,670,530. These figures are all the more remarkable when it is recalled that during the same period four intensive Liberty loan campaigns, and an almost continuous drive for the sale of Thrift Stamps and war savings certificates, were carried on. War activities had the complete right of way and an appeal by the postmaster general for active co-operation on the part of the 300,000 postal employees throughout the country, in all financial and charitable war activities, brought enthusiastic response. Meanwhile, postal savings simply marked time accepting only such business as came to the postoffices, unsolicited. The postal savings banks are largely patronized by wage-earners of foreign birth. These people are familiar with similar institutions conducted in their native countries and naturally turn to our postal banks to take care of their savings, thus evidencing their unbounded confidence in the United States and its promise to pay back the product of their toil and sacrifice the moment they ask for it.

Thousands of postal savings depositors joined the American army and navy, and that many of them made the supreme sacrifice is attested by the volume of death claims that are being paid to heirs of deceased soldiers and sailors on both sides of the Atlantic.

The Call-'em

The New York Yankees still continue to hold on to second place in the American league race but their job is growing harder every day. Cleveland, Detroit and the Braves are crowding Huggins too closely to bring any comfort to the New York boss and he can't seem to bring his team out of the slump.

Capsules Hard to Take
The sport winners who still persist in offering little capsules of hope and encouragement relative to the work of the Red Sox—that desperate belief that the Boston team simply must brace and plough their way to the top—need only to sincerely study the present standing. The Sox are nine full games away from the first division and 15½ games back of the flying "Kid Gleasons."

Grand Old Man
What about this moss covered adage that "they never come back"? Pick up the sport sheet any day and see what the old men of baseball are doing. Old Eddie Cicotte holds a strong contender for pennant honors to three hits and no runs. Old Gavy Cravath keeps his head up and unmercifully plays the onion while his Philly pals slump and slump. Old Slim Salica helps to keep the old New York Giants out in front and Old Terry Turner is signed by Connie Mack to play second base.

Let's All Galt
There seems to be an epidemic among big league pitchers in suddenly deserting the ranks. The latest move, however, is the "banquet" made by Pitcher Grover Lowdermilk of the White Sox, who has informed Manager Kid Gleason that he has been unable to win games for his team and therefore refuses to play any more. Mays and Lowdermilk. Next gentleman!

Would Favor Hook and Eye
The "mud" ball and emery ball episode faded into insignificance when compared to the astounding statement of Eddie Cicotte that Alan Sothern of the Browns is winning games by pitching the "mud" ball. On Alan's glove and it is sharpened to a razor edge, says Knuckie Bell Eddie. All Sothern has to do is to cut the seams of the ball with the edge of the button as he raises both hands to his face; spit on the seams and wait an instant for the stitching to swell, then pitch and watch the apple bump and wall cock-eyed Cicotte says the above is straight dope. It's the bunk. Sothern is winning too many games, that's the reason and rival pitchers have gone to the limit to stop him. He is in a manner other than acknowledged skill.

One-Man Teams
Ralph Works, once with the Tigers and now with the Yankees, says that Flagstead, the new-comer to the Detroit outfield, is the real reason for the fine drive of the team this year. He credits Cobb and coach as being the real reason for it. Works insists that Flagstead brought the needed new blood and fight. The sale of Lewis killed the Red Sox, he says, and Johnson has been the man to lead Cleveland in its fight.

Fading Easter Every Day
Although the New England league was set to continue the season with four clubs, rumors come from Portland that Pres. Donnelly does not hold out much hope for the life of the organization after another week. The attendance in Portland is falling off and when that summer playground fails to come through and make the turnstiles click, it is time to call it a day and go home.

BOOST TALKING MACHINES

There are two particular times of the year when talking machines are in extraordinary demand and big sales result. One period is a month before Christmas and the other is the summer season.

Why not take advantage of the summer season now and boost the sale of talking machines. Every canoe owner and every camper represents a sales possibility where a medium priced victrola, Edison, Columbia, Sonora, Brunswick or other good machine can be placed.

In a case of this kind the power of suggestion and possibility for pleasure afforded by a talking machine, as carried out by means of a strong, pulling ad, are the things that help business. Lowell has at least ten establishments where talking machines are sold on easy terms or at moderate prices for cash. The summer need not be a dull time to sell talking machines only unless the sellers themselves make it dull.

The first move should be to state your case by means of an ad in

HOUSING CONDITIONS

The legislature is to adopt measures for improving housing conditions in the city of Boston. That is right and proper. Conditions in Boston in all probability call for a radical remedy. But what of other cities of the commonwealth? So far as can be learned, they will have to shift for themselves. The officials in each city and town outside of Boston will have to see to it that the housing conditions are not allowed to become so bad as to work serious detriment to the community or injury to any particular family. In the efforts of poor families to meet the high cost of living and the difficulties of the housing situation, many may be subjected to hardships that should not be allowed to exist in any American community. Vigilance on the part of municipal officials, religious and social service workers will be necessary to prevent such suffering and to bring relief to those who need it before it is too late.

INFANT MORTALITY

The New York milk committee, which has done so much in that city to save the lives of children under one year old, has issued a very instructive statistical report on the infant mortality in 167 American cities. The infant death rate is the number of deaths of children under one year old in every thousand living births reported in any one year. The city of Lowell has a rate of infant mortality higher than it should be, although much lower than that of many other industrial cities as shown in this report.

With a population set down as 106,291, Lowell in 1918 had 2,473 deaths, 525 of which were of children under one year old, making the rate of infant mortality 150.1. The rate of infant mortality for Fall River is 161.3, New Bedford 184.4, Lynn 76.8, Springfield 100, Lawrence 148.2, Manchester, N. H., 138.0, Haverhill 73, Salem 98, Nashua 122.2, New York city 91.7, Chicago 104.3, Philadelphia 126, Boston 114.9, Buffalo 121.5, San Francisco 57.2, Washington, D. C., 110.9. The cities having the highest rate of infant mortality are: Troy, N. Y., 267.3, Youngstown, O., 183.5, San Antonio, Tex., 245, Reading, Pa., 202.9.

This report states that a safe milk supply and first aid to the infants will lower the infant mortality wherever it is abnormal. "Clean milk pasteurized, graded and labeled to show what it is, is the only safe milk. Milk is a substitute for other food—no other food is a substitute for milk." It explains also that first aid for infants means providing medical and nursing care promptly whenever it is required and that medical and nursing care with proper instruction for the expectant mother is also an important factor in saving the babies. It is also stated that in motherhood properly instructed and respected, there is a potentiality of health and well being for future generations beyond the dream of the most enthusiastic humanitarian. In view of these facts, it will be apparent even to casual observers that the Lowell Guild is an agency that should be liberally supported and encouraged in its work. It should have stations close to the congested districts from which the babies pasteurized milk for the babies kept in homes where there is no refrigerator to keep milk from spoiling. As to the instruction of mothers, the district nurses are doing good work and can do a great deal more if they get the necessary support.

We are now in the hot season, which is likely to be followed by necessaries, is on the whole so high as to constitute a serious impediment to the prosperity of the country.

The total exports of Ireland in 1914 amounted to $386,655,260 and the imports to $368,295,840. A large proportion of all exports and imports pass through the port of the city of Cork. This volume shows that Cork is a live, busy, driven and enterprising city which under local self-government would become a port of great commercial importance. Its college, its school of commerce, its technical and other schools offer splendid educational opportunities to the youth of the land, and nothing is wanting to ensure prosperity for all Ireland but the fostering care of a home government, free to develop the resources of the nation and to encourage industrial enterprises which would offer profitable employment for all the people. With such encouragement many of the American friends of Ireland would gladly render financial assistance.

JOHNSON'S CAMPAIGN

Hiram W. Johnson, United States senator from California, is making a tour of the eastern states in a campaign against the League of Nations, the chief aim of which is to boost his own candidacy for the presidency.

Senator Johnson, it will be remembered, was one of the men prominently associated with Col. Roosevelt in the progressive party and he is now posing as the very personification of the Roosevelt policies and the Roosevelt brand of Americanism. The San Francisco Chronicle, the chief organ behind Johnson's boom for the presidency, proclaims to the world that the "mantle of an illustrious predecessor has descended upon him and he prophesies."

Doubtless Mr. Johnson believes all that the Chronicle says in this respect and he is doing his utmost to convince the people of this country that it is really true and that he is in reality another Roosevelt. Even on the stump, he is aping the methods and manners of the late lamented ex-president and pitifully floundering around in the late colonel's shoes.

The Chronicle sheds some light upon the motives behind Johnson's candidacy. It says that for 25 years the country has not had a president hailing from any state west of the Mississippi and it is their right to put forward a man as candidate that will command the support not only of the west but a sufficient number of eastern delegates to secure his nomination. The aim now is to capitalize the political following of the late Col. Roosevelt and lead it into the republican convention in favor of Senator Johnson.

We do not believe this can be done. We do not believe the admirers of the late colonel will accept the Chronicle's estimate of Mr. Johnson nor that they can be convinced that he is in any respect the equal or even a worthy disciple of Roosevelt so far as real Americanism is concerned.

Johnson is a factionist and he is particularly opposed to the Japanese making further inroads on the western states. In this he may be right so far as anybody at present can judge; but he is so aggressive on this policy that were he president of the United States and showed the same spirit towards Japan, he would undoubtedly plunge the nation into war with that empire unless we have a League of Nations to prevent war.

But Senator Johnson is fighting hard against the League of Nations. It is not unfair to inquire whether the senator, in pursuing this policy, is influenced by his hatred of Japan. This is one view of his opposition to the League of Nations and a possible explanation. Another is, that he wishes the United States to keep aloof from world affairs and return to her old time isolation, which has been by some of them much less than long ago laid aside. The fact that commission was made up of that we control the Philippine Islands of all shades of political opinion. This initiative has not been removed, but on the contrary, removed forever our participation in all accounts, it has been increased. This nation, a world so that there is ample ground for power interested in world events, the charge of order that in world commerce, world peace, the hands of England.

It is also shown in this volume that the railroads of Ireland have been announced, it seems that made up of independent of the world as it is by far the most heavily where service is so direct and it is in his air. That is a part of the same time so expensive to travel, is part of his policy in be a serious handicap to business, and the character of Roosevelt. It is stated that the cost of the Irish produce to the country is one-fourth of the population for export or from one part of the land to another as also the cost of moving from the ports to the interior, although he may succeed in inferior, grain, flour, coal and other, proving to be equally dangerous.

SEEN AND HEARD

Haircuts 50 cents—shave 20 cents. "Lay on, Macduff, and damn's he him that first cries: 'Hold, enough!'"

And we are on the road to it with milk. Well, with no beer to lay that ought to be easy.

It is better to die, since death comes surely, in the full tide of an honored name, than to live to the end of time, obscurely, a handful of dust in a shroud of shame.

When looking for the best part of the nerve just go to the legislature and lamp the guys who after adopting a 50 per cent salary raise for themselves over the governor's veto are now planning recess jobs at $1000 per member. But don't forget that there is a cure for this great disease and the place to administer it is at the polls.

Prepared for the Worst Just as two firemen were in the middle of a large field one of them turned and saw an angry bull making for them.

With a yell of warning he bolted and just managed to clear the hedge. His companion, less nimble, ran wildly round the hedge to find another opening.

Twice he went round without escaping. Then, as he passed his anxious friend for the third time he shouted: "Tell my missus my insurance policy is in the bottom drawer. This is my last time around."—St. Louis Globe Democrat.

When Getting a Life Getting "picked up" or a "lift" downtown in gas propelled by kind hearted motorists is part of the daily program now for the hostlers. The big problem with the hostler is how to get and what to say during the ride. So we offer herewith the proper "lift" etiquette.

When trying to open the door the wrong way, mumble your thanks and something about the poor car service, and it being "mighty fine" to be offered this rare opportunity of getting downtown. When asked how far you are going, spar for time to see how far he is going, and if he isn't going all the way down, wherever he stops, tell him, "that'll be fine, that's just where I get off." Then give your views on the weather for the day. After a few moments' silence, ask the make of the car. If an older model, say you wouldn't have guessed it. If sure has been kept up fine. Then remark how quiet and smooth the engine and car runs. When nearing the stop, get ready to get off a block ahead. Be all gratitude, as though you want to jump off as he won't have to go to all the trouble of stopping the car. Fumble with the door again and step out awkwardly, bumping your hat against the top, and again get all bowed up with your thanks.

Literary Cuckoo This valuable suggestion was in a recent number of a popular periodical. "The best substitute for a saloon is a bookcase. Whether you find it in a public library, in a bookshop or in your own home, the bookcase can match every thrill that the saloon ever gave, and add some of its own. If necessary, you can put a footstool along the bottom shelf and read standing up."

This last hint is invaluable. By all means, have your bookcase done over to suit the new condition, with a brass rail along the lower front and a substantial, projecting top that you can lean on with comfort while enjoying your substitute imbibulations. Those who want a regular and thorough literary jag will of course need an easy chair.

There may be an eye to business in this suggestion, for the firm that publishes the periodical also is engaged in the book publishing business on an extensive scale. However, the idea is worth whatever it is worth, even if it is bare-faced advertising. If the bookcase becomes popular as the best saloon substitute and we really take to satisfying our craving for beverages with books, perhaps the public libraries should revise their system of cataloging for the greater convenience of thirsty patrons. In going to the bookcase on this impulse it may be assumed that you want a definite substitute for something definite. In arranging for the New Bartenders' Guide, for instance, we might start off something like this:

Mellow Old Cocktail—Epicurus.
Dry Martini—H. L. Menckens.
Whisky Sour—Theodore Dreiser.
Sherry Cobbler—Booth Tarkington.
Absinthe Frappe—Herr Nietzsche.
Tom and Jerry—W. L. Jacobs.
Port Wine—Gladys Conrad.
Pink Lemonade—B. W. Chambers.
Malted Milk—Harold Bell Wright.

You can make up a card index to suit your own tastes and according to your individual necessities. In any event, there seems to be no reason why any family, with a little painstaking care, should be without its own five-foot shelf or substitute imbibitions suitable for any emergency.—H. Young, in Providence Journal.

CAR COMPANY ORDERED OFF TOLEDO STREETS

TOLEDO, O., July 18.—Members of the city council yesterday refused to compromise with the Toledo Railways and Light company, and insisted that it take its street cars and tracks off the streets at the end of this month.

The order was issued when the company raised the fare from 5 cents, 1 cent for a transfer, to 6 cents and 2 cents for a transfer.

A proposal to replace car service by a $2,000,000 automobile bus service was abandoned when the city was unable to grant an immediate franchise to protect investors. Unless there is a compromise or some substitute for car service found, Toledo will walk after July 30.

BOSTON, July 18.—Atty. Gen. CHIEF TAHAN TALKS TO LOWELL BOYS

This is the first in a series of "Indian stories" for boys by Chief Tahan of the tribe of Kiowas, printed exclusively in The Sun. In this story the big chief tells boys how to make fire by friction with "mother-piece" and "fire-stick."

BY CHIEF TAHAN
Of the Kiowa Indian Tribe.

Gaitake—good! Mighty glad you boys came, for the chief was just thinking about you. Now don't be a bit afraid to walk on my old buffalo robe, sit right down on it. No, I haven't forgotten what you were coming for, and I've got my old fire making things all ready.

Of course if you were Boy Scouts—and I hope you will be some day—you would know all about how to make fire by friction, for that is one of the things they do. Somebody I presume who had been among the Indians learned from them how to do it, and then taught it to the Boy Scouts.

Well, here is my old hearth piece with holes burned in it. A long time ago the Indians called this the "mother-piece," or "good mother." Next, here is my fire stick, or drill. You can see that it is not smooth, but that it has several corners on it. The old time Indians used to call this stick "the kind-father-one." Now then I put the string of the fire-bow once around the stick—you see that all the time the string is tied to each end of the bow; and now I put this little stone with a place in it to fit over the top of the drill, with a little grease in it so that it will not take fire at that end when I begin to work the bow. Now I take the little stone in my left hand on top of the drill, take the end of the bow in my right hand. But first I put this powdered cedar bark under the notch of the "mother-piece."—now then, I put the end of the drill on the notch, and all is ready to begin. See, I push the bow from me, draw it back, keep on doing that, faster and faster—now watch. See the smoke? Wait a little. There, now, there is a spark on the powdered bark under the notch, and the end of the drill. Now—wait—a moment. Ill blow it—with my breath. There! we have a blaze. Now I'll put some of this dry grass and twigs on it, and pretty soon we'll have a good fire.

The long-ago-time Indians believed that fire is a thing that has life like an animal—that it is a kind of an animal thing; for it eats almost anything you give it. They believe that it has been inside the wood ever since the Thunderbird up in the sky batted his eyes so fast that much fire (lightning) came out of them and struck a tree. When the old time Indian made his fire by friction he sang his fire song or prayer, to his God, that the "mystery animal" might be born of the "father-mother wood sticks." No matter how much fire there was in the village he always made a new fire by friction for his religious ceremonies.

It used to be a law that when a messenger approached a camp at night, he had to carry a torch to show that he was a friend. For they said that a friend was not afraid to be seen in the fire-shine and that a good man would always carry his light with him.

What is a Call for "Anyone"?

The distinction between a person-to-person call and a station-to-station call is indicated by their names. In the former, you ask the toll operator to call some designated Person and get him on the line; in the latter, you simply ask the toll operator to connect you with his telephone.

The latter form of toll call is simpler and quicker to handle; therefore, it costs only about three-fourths as much as the person-to-person call. It can be employed to advantage if it is reasonably certain that the person wanted will be at the other end of the line, or, in the event of his absence, if the business to be discussed with him can be transacted with anyone else there.

Examples of station-to-station method of giving a toll call:

"Bangor 3265-W—"Anyone."

"23 Green Street, Manchester, N. H.—Anyone."

"Residence of Joseph Brown, Burlington, Vt.—Anyone."

"John Smith's telephone, Pittsfield, Mass.—Anyone."

"Robinson Machine Co., Springfield, Mass.—Anyone."

Quicker service will be obtained if you call the telephone number desired. If you do not know the number, the toll operator will get it for you.

WHO CAN AFFORD TO "KEEP A MAID"

BY BIDDY BYE

When can an American family afford "to keep a maid?"

In these days of universal economy, or need for economy,—that is a pertinent question which every business-like housewife must ask herself before she decides that she "must have help with the work."

As a business proposition keeping a maid is a luxury for the few—an extravagance for all families who could not freely and frankly be classed as "rich."

Modern economists have figured the actual money cost of keeping a maid thus:
Wages—at $5 to $7 per week, for a month $20-$35
Room—at $2 per week for a month 12.00
Board—at $1 per week for a month 16.00
Depreciation (wears, breakage, etc.) per month 5.00
$53.00

At this estimate the cost of maintaining a maid for a single year amounts to $636.00. Yet many families with an income of $2,000 a year think they can afford that their social position demands they "keep a maid."

In addition to the bare living costs estimated above in gifts and other costs involved in gifts and vacations to the maid, to care and loss of time during her possible illness, and to the increased cost traceable to the more extravagant standards of living which accompany "keeping a maid." Obviously, for a family not rich, "keeping a maid" is rank extravagance.

There are certain times, and emergencies in family life when keeping a maid is actually justified, such as illness of one or more members of the family, when the housewife must act as a nurse in addition to other duties. Also, when there are very young babies in the family requiring the mother's strength and care, a maid's help is justified, and should be provided by economies in other directions. It is only when there are excessive demands on the housewife's physical strength that a maid is really needed in families of average income.

Economists roughly estimate that maids are extravagant in all families with incomes of less than $3,500 a year.

The un-keep and care of the home and children is as much the business of the wife and mother as the actual earning of the income is the business of the husband and father. For an average woman in normal health the care of a house, and the work necessary to keep herself, husband, and from two to three children in health and comfort, is not unreasonable.

The just woman will admit that a woman has no more real claim to extra hours of rest and leisure than her husband. Even without the help of a maid most housewives can so arrange their work as to afford one hour's rest or recreation each day—and that is more than is allowed the average business man or worker. It is true that housework cannot be limited to a strict eight or ten hour day, but it can be so arranged as to consume no more than that during the whole day, and so as to leave the evenings free for rest and companionship with the wage earner.

If, by agreement between husband and wife, it is decided that the wife is more useful, economically, working outside her home than in it, the employment of a maid to assume the domestic duties usually allotted to the wife, is justified. These, however, are rare situations.

If the employment of a maid is for the sole purpose of giving the housewife more leisure and pleasure, or for raising the social standard of the family, it is both absurd, and an economic wrong or act of selfishness.

On Saturday, July 13, at 1.30 p. m. there will be offered for sale at public auction at 99 Chauncy street, Boston, about 500 homing pigeons which were used for the transmission, by the air route, of official communications between these headquarters and the different coast defenses and camps in the northeastern department during the war.

OUT OF LUCK

Many people in this world go about with the idea that they are always "out of luck." They think that others can get things that they can't. If others are rich, and recover, these luckless persons think they can't be helped even if they try the same remedies that helped their friends. That doesn't sound reasonable does it?

We can give you the proofs that thousands of people have been helped by GOLDINE. They were not all lucky people, some had suffered with disease as long as forty years. That would put them out of the lucky class. But GOLDINE helped them get rid of their diseases. If you have any trouble, why not see if you can't get the same result as all these others obtained. There is no real reason why you shouldn't be there. Your trouble isn't as bad as the troubles of many who took GOLDINE and found relief. It's worth trying out.

Remember, GOLDINE is sold in Lowell by Carter & Sherburne, F. H. Butler & Co., W. P. Calise, Jr., Fred Howard, Wm. R. Kiernan, Frank E. McNabb, Wm. H. Noonan, R. F. Webster, John & Crawford Co. It is also sold by Roland G. Wright in Billerica, John & Westwood in Chelmsford, Conant & Co. in Littleton, Edward A. Woods in Wilmington and dealers in Ayer, Westford, Dracut, Tewksbury and other towns. If your dealer does not carry GOLDINE in stock, have him secure it through the Lawrence Drug Co.—Ad.

Lawyers Clash

his testimony under interrogation by Attorney Stevenson.
"You heard what General Weaver said. Mr. Delavigne made an important departure from that, didn't he, in writing your advertisement?"
"I am not a competent judge," answered the witness.
"Do you know how long it takes to mount a gun, Mr. Ford?" asked Mr. Stevenson.
"No."
"You didn't print the truth about it?"

Told to Get the Facts
"I employed Theodore Delavigne and told him to get the facts and to stick to the facts. If he omitted things I am responsible."
"Then you want this jury and the world to understand that you published a mis-statement broadcast and didn't know what was in it: whether true or false?"
"I told him to get the facts."
"Are you charging Mr. Delavigne with dishonesty?"
"No."
"You heard what was said about a mobile force being necessary to protect coast defenses from attack in the past?"
"Yes."
"What do you understand by a 'mobile army'?"
"An army mobilized," said the manufacturer.

Counsel for Mr. Ford objected as usual when the latter is asked the meaning of words.
"It is an army large or small, which can move quickly," explained Mr. Stevenson.
"Ford an Anarchist
"I don't know much about militarism," added the witness.
The Tribune attorney next came for the first time directly to the heart of the suit with reference to the Tribune editorial of June 23, 1916, which was headed: "Ford is an Anarchist."
"What is a headline?" asked Mr. Stevenson.
"It shows what is in the body of an article under it."

Mr. Ford yesterday testified that an anarchist is a bomb thrower or one who overturns government. Mr. Stevenson then read the text of the editorial.
"Nothing there about bomb throwing, is there?"
"No, but the headline . . ."
"But you said that a headline shows what is in the body of the article, Mr. Ford?"

This precipitated an argument in the course of which Attorney Murphy contended that it was the contention of the plaintiff that the headlines were libelous standing by itself for the very reason that the text of the article related nothing anarchistic of Mr. Ford.
"It seems to me, Your Honor," said Mr. Stevenson, "that we have a right to know what the plaintiff himself thinks—just how he thinks he has been injured."

"I hardly ever read anything but the headlines," put in Mr. Ford.
Judge Tucker took up a law book and Mr. Stevenson went on:
"You will hardly deny the charge that you are an ignorant idealist, Mr. Ford? You said so twice yesterday."

Brutal to Fine Man
"Well, Mr. Stevenson, you can't get me to say black is white," smiled the witness.
"Why, Mr. Ford, haven't I been fair with you?"
"Yes."

Mr. Lucking protested: "This is brutal to a fine man; a modest man, who hates to appear in public, who does not wish to be here. I submit that it is brutal."

"You don't think that Mr. Ford, go on," asked Mr. Stevenson.
"I am not brutal, am I?" Ford smiled.
"He is talking through his hat, isn't he?" continued the Tribune lawyer.

Witness smiled again, and Judge Tucker reminded Lucking that Ford could expect no different treatment than any other witness.

"But he has had different treatment so far as I am concerned," said Attorney Stevenson. "I never in my life treated a witness with so much consideration."

Ford finally stated that the record would show what he said about being "an ignorant idealist." Attorney Stevenson then called his attention to his previous testimony in which he admitted ignorance of most things about the army and navy.

Elevated Strike

Continued

Declining to make any formal statement, Mr. Vahey nevertheless indicated that conditions were somewhat strained by saying that a detailed statement would be issued if the deadlock continue and it was found necessary for the union to break off negotiations with the company. Former Congressman Samuel L. Powers, one of the trustees said he knew of no developments in the controversy that would warrant any further break between the union and the truster.

Would Accept 60 Cents
Following the joint conferences, the union leaders and the trustees went in to separate sessions, preparatory to meeting later in the day for further discussion.
Although the demands of the union are for a wage of 73½ cents an hour, union leaders said that 60 cents an hour probably would be acceptable to the men in view of the financial difficulties of the road.

Governor Coolidge conferred with representatives of both sides for the purpose of assisting in selecting a board of arbitration. James H. Vahey, counsel for the carmen and W. H. Barnum, general counsel for the railway were accepted yesterday as members of this board and the governor was expected today to name the third member.

Scores of New Bus Lines
While traffic on all the company's lines remained suspended, commuters many of whom were forced to walk to work yesterday found transportation facilities greatly improved today by better steam train service and the establishment of scores of new "bus" lines about the city.

Nearly 100 extra trains between outlying points and the central terminals besides added coaches on the regular trains of the Boston & Albany, Boston & Maine and N.Y., N.H. & H. railroads eliminated many of the delays and inconveniences suffered yesterday. It was estimated that these railroads handled double the amount of their normal traffic.
Industrial plants and mercantile houses, handicapped yesterday by tardy or absent workers, were running under normal conditions today. Many of them furnished transportation to and from the railroad stations and suburban centers for their employees.
Shoppers and residents were accommodated by scheduled service on "bus" lines established through the use of pleasure cars, auto trucks and horse drawn vehicles. Excepting the rush hours charges on these lines did not exceed the elevated fare of 10 cents. Commuters north of the city were served by cars of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Co., traversing surface tracks formerly used only in the early morning hours. Frequent communication with many nearby towns, not reached by steam or electric lines was maintained by "bus" lines instituted by town officials or civic organizations.

Payment of Deficit Held Up
To the troubles of operation of the Boston Elevated Co. were added today problems of finance when payment by the state of $2,550,151 to make up the deficit of the road for the last year was held up. The stoppage was due to a bill in equity filed by the city of Boston to restrain the state treasurer from making payment.

Explaining the bill, Alexander Whiteside, corporation counsel for the city, said that the trustees of the road had charged off last year some $2,000,000 for depreciation, and more than that amount for maintenance and repairs, and he questioned whether such a heavy charge was legal. By legislative act, the state is obliged to pay the Elevated company the amount of its deficit annually, the trustees settling the amount, and cities and towns in which the road operates being assessed proportionately.
Governor Coolidge said this afternoon that he did not expect any further conferences would be held at his office. He added that almost every conceivable plan to bring about a settlement of the controversy has been considered at the conferences held to date.
